

THE SUPREME COURT.

DECISIONS RENDERED TUESDAY.
SEPTEMBER 26TH, 1882.James Jackson, Chief Justice; Martin J. Crawford and Alexander M. Spear, Associate Justices.
Reported for the Constitution by J. H.
Lumpkin, Supreme Court Reporter.Hensley & Smith vs. Epps. Claim, from Clarke, Liens, Claims.Jackson, C. J.—A mechanic has a special lien on personal property for repairs done
thereon, which must be asserted by a return of the property, and is lost by surrender of possession. While a foreman of his lien is necessary before sale under it, yet where another leaves the property, it is proper for the mechanic to arrest the proceeding by claim.(a) To sell, the plaintiff (not falling within the exceptions of the act of 1873) must first pay the mechanic's charges; if he is unwilling to do so, on the trial of the claim case
a judgment may be rendered in favor of the other to sell and pay first the fair value of the work and the balance to the levying creditor. 30 Ga., 450; acts 1873, p. 42; code, 22190, 1900.Judgment reversed.
A. Cobb, for plaintiff in error.
R. B. Russell, by brief, for defendant.Dickinson et al. vs. Mann. Equity, from Decatur. Practice in Superior Court.Jackson, C. J.—1. Exception being taken to the grant of a new trial and error assigned thereon, the writ of error will not be dismissed for want of proper assignment of error
on rulings made by the court below, whether other grounds of exception be good or not.2. The first grant of a new trial on the ground that the verdict is not supported by the evidence, will not be criticized closely unless it appears that there has been an abuse of discretion by the court below.3. Where counsel have had an opportunity on the hearing to move to dismiss a motion for new trial because not supported by the evidence, but have failed to do so, this court will not review his judgment on that ground, the point being made for the first time in the bill of exceptions. 61 Ga. 281.(c) Whether in the case of a judgment, without proper authority under order in term, time or agreement, should pass upon a motion for new trial in vacation, and in the absence of counsel, they would have the right to raise the point for the first time by bill of exceptions? Quære.4. A judge who has heard a case may defer
his decision without any consent of counsel;
and the fact that the judge sends his decision
to the clerk of the court, and the case belonging while another judge is legally presiding
therein, would not invalidate the judgment.
Such proceeding would, at most, be a mere irregularity.Judgment affirmed.
Bowers & Donaldson; D. A. Russell, by J.
H. Lumpkin, for plaintiffs in error.McGill & O'Neal, by Jackson & King, for defendant.West et al. vs. Jones et al. Equity, from Dooley. Practice in superior court. Motion for new trial.Jackson, C. J.—A motion for new trial was presented in term time, and a consent order
was entered allowing it to be heard in vacation
at such time and place as the judge might designate between the then pending March term
and the first of August following. The judge designated a time and place. Counsel for respondent stated that he did not wish to be heard. Counsel for movant sent for the papers. At the appointed time, the clerk failed to send the motion. Counsel for movant notified the judge of the fact; but the papers, having been mislaid, did not reach counsel until the judge had left the place.
Counsel for movant then asked the judge, by letter, to continue the case until the next term, which was done. At the next term
the presiding judge was disqualified from hearing the motion, and no action was taken on it. At the next term thereafter it was called.Held, that the delay in obtaining a hearing
did not result from the laches of movant or his counsel; and a motion to dismiss the motion for new trial was properly overruled.

Judgment affirmed.

W. L. Grice; Davis & Riley, by brief, for plaintiff in error.Guerry & Son; Hawkins & Hawkins; Duncan & Miller, for defendants.Baker, et al. vs. Downing. Certiorari, from Laurens. Actions.Jackson, C. J.—1. There was sufficient evidence to sustain the finding of the county judge as to the bona fides of the original entry on the land in this case, and there was no error in refusing to sustain the certiorari on that ground.2. Where parties having possession of land made a formal surrender thereof, evidenced by writing, and afterwards, in direct contravention of such surrender, entered on the land, they were intruders, and subject to the proceedings provided by 1872 et seq. of the code.

Judgment affirmed.

J. E. Higginbotham, by R. L. Rodgers, for plaintiffs in error.

J. M. Stables, by brief, for defendant.

Hargrove, ordinary, vs. Lilly, executor, et al.
Equity, from Dooley. New trial. Taxes.
Liens. Dower. Judgments.Crawford, J.—1. Upon the testimony submitted, we cannot say that the finding of the auditor to the effect that there was not sufficient evidence to authorize him in finding that the land in controversy had been purchased with county funds was error.2. Each county has a separate corporate existence, and is empowered to manage its own finances. Therefore, unpaid county taxes are not taxes due to the state so as to be preferred
to all other debts in the distribution of the estate of a decedent, next after the expenses of administration. Constitution, Art. 10,
Sec. 1 par. 1; 27 Ga. 355; 41 Id. 643; 51 Id. 254;
52 Id. 233.(a) In the distribution of the estate of a deceased tax collector of a county, the claim of his widow for dower and a decree in favor of one who sold land to the decedent, fixing a lien thereon, and other judgment liens, would each take precedence of a claim of the county for its taxes collected and never accounted for.

Judgment affirmed.

C. C. Duncan; Davis & Riley; John B.
Holmes; W. L. Brown, by brief, for plaintiff in error.J. H. Woodward; Hawkins & Hawkins, for defendant.Sheffield, sheriff, vs. State. Attachment for contempt, from Decatur. Venue. Jurisdiction. Courts. Officers. Constitutional law.Crawford, J.—1. No power is given to the judge of the criminal court of Decatur county
by the act creating that court to attach a sheriff of another county for failure to execute a criminal warrant issued by him.2. If the general act creating county courts could be invoked, no such power is given thereby.3. A sheriff cannot be ruled out of the county of his residence for failure to execute a criminal warrant therein. Whether an attachment be a civil or criminal proceeding,
the county of his residence is the proper venue
of the case. Constitution, art. 6, sec. 16, par. 6; 17 Ga. 187.(a) Semble, that upon a proper proceeding
by information to the court of the county of the sheriff's residence, and after a hearing, he might be compelled by proper penalties to perform his duty, if he be neglecting it. Code §§ 238, 361.

Judgment reversed.

D. A. Russell, by J. H. Lumpkin, for plaintiff in error.Jesse Walters, solicitor general, by G. J.
Wright, W. H. Crawford; Terrell & Gurley,
for the state.

Taylor, trustee, et al. vs. Dyches. Equity.

from Pulaski. Roads. Allevies. Easements.
Deeds. Title.Crawford, J.—1. Where one owning land sells a part of it, reserving in the deed an alley-way for the common use of the part conveyed and the part reserved, and subsequently conveys the remainder not passed by the first deed, the right of common of ease
in the way passes to the grantee in the second deed as appurtenant thereto.2. Even if in one of the links of the chain of title of a feeble holding under the second
deed the conveyance excepts the alley-way,
that exception will be construed, in the light of the original conveyance, not to mean an exception of the right of common in the way,
but an exception of the exclusive use thereof.
Watson & Jordan; Hall & son, for plaintiffs in error.L. C. Martin; Kibbee & Martin, for defendant.Griffin vs. Davis, receiver. Rule from Dougherty. Year's support. Receivers.Crawford, J.—Factors had been advancing and accepting drafts for a farmer to enable him to make his crop. He died during the year; his wife took out temporary letters of administration, gathered the crop and delivered a number of bales of cotton to the factors, who sold it, and credited it, in the usual course of their business, and with the assent of the widow (as alleged by the receiver). After wards the factors made an assignment giving preference, first, to the payment of expenses;
second, to the payment of persons having money on deposit or call with them, or to their credit on uncollected balances from the sale of cotton. A receiver was appointed.
None of the cotton or money of the estate went into his hands. The widow took care of her husband's property, and ruled the receiver to pay the amount set apart to her.Held, that there was no error in refusing to order such payment.(c) To enable a widow to obtain a year's support out of the estate of her husband, it must first appear that he has an estate. That there had been property which had been disposed of by the factors makes no difference,
if none of the proceeds went into the hands of the receiver.

Judgment affirmed.

Vason & Alfriend; J. H. Lumpkin, for plaintiff in error.

G. J. Wright, for defendant.

Starr vs. Davis, receiver. Rule from Dougherty. Debtor and creditor. Receivers.Crawford, J.—A draft is only a debt due by the drawer and acceptors to the payee. An assignment by acceptors which gave preference "to creditors who have money on deposit or on call, or to their credit on uncollected balances from the sales of cotton,"
would not include a creditor who had an ordinary acceptance from said firm.(a) The fact that the drawer, who had a large account for other advances with the acceptors, delivered to the acceptors a draft for the amount of his account, would not bring the payee within the class of preferred creditors.
Judgment affirmed.F. H. West; Vason & Alfriend; J. H.
Lumpkin, for plaintiff in error.

G. J. Wright, for defendant.

DR. CLARK JOHNSON'S

Indian Blood Syrup

Cures all diseases of the Stomach, Liver,
Bowels, Kidneys, Skin and Blood. Millions
testify to its efficacy in healing the above
named diseases, and pronounce it to be the
BEST REMEDY KNOWN TO MAN.
Guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia.

AGENTS WANTED.

Laboratory 77 West 3d St., New York City. Druggists sell it.

DR. CLARK JOHNSON—I have given you INDIAN BLOOD SYRUP a fair trial for Liver Complaint, and recommend it to all afflicted as a valuable medicine.sold the same with the exclusive right to manufacture and sell it, surrendered his trade
mark to the purchaser and agreed "never to
use or permit my name to be used on any
preparation which could be recommended
and sold for the same purposes as Brewer's
Lung Restorer is used and sold for," such contract is in partial not general restraint of trade;
and being for a valuable consideration, it is not unreasonable.(a) Such contract does not limit the skill of
the vendor in compounding medicines for the
cure of throat and lung diseases, but stipulates that his name shall not appear with his consent on such medicines. The publishing
and offering for sale of "Brewer's Sarsaparilla Syrup," professing to be a permanent
cure for all diseases of the lungs and throat," is
a violation of the contract; and the vendor
being insolvent, equity will enjoin stoppa-
tion.

Judgment affirmed.

G. T. & C. L. Bartlett, for plaintiff in error.
Samuel H. Jensen, for defendants.Cruger, trustee, vs. Tucker, administrator, et al.
Equity, from Dougherty. Practice in superior court. Trustees. Fraud.Speer, J.—1. A ground of a motion for new trial that the verdict is contrary to the charge
of the court is too general to be considered by
this court.2. The recitals in a deed are only binding
on the parties thereto and those claiming
under them; they are not evidence against one
who does not claim under any of the parties
to it either as a party in law or in equity. 48
Ga. 329; 33 Id. 550; 4 Benning (Penn. Rep.)
231.(a) Creditors of a grantor who attacked a deed made by him to a trustee for his wife, as fraudulent and void, and sought to enforce
their claims against the property, were not bound by the recitals of such deed.3. Where a husband, being heavily indebted, conveyed property to a trustee for
his wife, alleging as a consideration of the
deed that he was indebted to the trust estate
and that the funds of such estate had been
invested therein, in a contest with judgment
creditors who obtained their judgments after
the conveyance, notwithstanding such recitals,
the onus of proving to the satisfaction of the
jury the existence of such debt was on the creditors of the grantor.(b) There being no evidence of the existence of such debt, the court properly submitted to the jury the question whether or not such conveyance was fraudulent as to creditors.4. The charge of the court complained of
was not without foundation in evidence.5. A court of equity having the parties before it will do full equity. Where the facts
made by the pleadings was whether certain
property belonged to the trust estate of a
debtor's wife or was subject to his debts, a verdict that it was subject, and that it be sold
and the proceeds be brought into court for
distribution under its order, was not improper.6. The verdict is supported by the evidence.
Judgment affirmed.Smith & Jones; Vason & Alfriend, for plaintiff in error.C. B. Wooten, by W. A. Hawkins; R.
Hobbs; G. J. Wright, for defendants.Mental depression, weakness of the muscular system, general ill health, benefited by
using Brown's Iron Bitters.

sept26-dawwlv

Jack Frost is a foe to Yellow Jack.

Four Years' Experience of an Old Nurse.

THE WINDING STAIRS SYRUP is the prescrip-
tion of one of the best female physicians and nurse
in the United States, and has been used for forty years with never failing success by millions of
mothers for their children, and for the cure of
croup, whooping cough, and all the ailments of
infants and young children. It is a simple, safe,
and reliable remedy. Price 10 cents a bottle.
MARRIAGE-SANITARY-WEED

Stone deaf—The little brown jug.

ANGOSTURA BITTERS, the world-renowned
stomach and invigorant, a delicious flavor, and
sprinkles and cures dyspepsia, diarrhoea, fever and ague. Try it. It is better than counterfeits. Ask
your grocer, or druggist, for Hostetter's Angostura
Bitters. Price 10 cents a bottle. DR. C. H. SIEGEL & SONS
MARRIAGE-SANITARY-WEED

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

CELEBRATED

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

DR. CLARK JOHNSON'S
Indian Blood Syrup
Cures all diseases of the Stomach, Liver,
Bowels, Kidneys, Skin and Blood. Millions
testify to its efficacy in healing the above
named diseases, and pronounce it to be the
BEST REMEDY KNOWN TO MAN.
Guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia.

AGENTS WANTED.

Laboratory 77 West 3d St., New York City. Druggists sell it.

DR. CLARK JOHNSON—I have given you INDIAN BLOOD SYRUP a fair trial for Liver Complaint, and recommend it to all afflicted as a valuable medicine.sold the same with the exclusive right to manufacture and sell it, surrendered his trade
mark to the purchaser and agreed "never to
use or permit my name to be used on any
preparation which could be recommended
and sold for the same purposes as Brewer's
Lung Restorer is used and sold for," such contract is in partial not general restraint of trade;
and being for a valuable consideration, it is
not unreasonable.(a) Such contract does not limit the skill of
the vendor in compounding medicines for the
cure of throat and lung diseases, but stipu-
lates that his name shall not appear with his
consent on such medicines. The publishing
and offering for sale of "Brewer's Sarsaparilla Syrup," professing to be a permanent
cure for all diseases of the lungs and throat," is
a violation of the contract; and the vendor
being insolvent, equity will enjoin stoppa-
tion.

Judgment affirmed.

G. T. & C. L. Bartlett, for plaintiff in error.
Samuel H. Jensen, for defendants.Cruger, trustee, vs. Tucker, administrator, et al.
Equity, from Dougherty. Practice in superior court. Trustees. Fraud.Speer, J.—1. A ground of a motion for new trial that the verdict is contrary to the charge
of the court is too general to be considered by
this court.2. The recitals in a deed are only binding
on the parties thereto and those claiming
under them; they are not evidence against one
who does not claim under any of the parties
to it either as a party in law or in equity. 48
Ga. 329; 33 Id. 550; 4 Benning (Penn. Rep.)
231.(a) Creditors of a grantor who attacked a
deed made by him to a trustee for his wife, as
fraudulent and void, and sought to enforce
their claims against the property, were not
bound by the recitals of such deed.3. Where a husband, being heavily indebted, conveyed property to a trustee for
his wife, alleging as a consideration of the
deed that he was indebted to the trust estate
and that the funds of such estate had been
invested therein, in a contest with judgment
creditors who obtained their judgments after
the conveyance, notwithstanding such recitals,
the onus of proving to the satisfaction of the
jury the existence of such debt was on the
creditors of the grantor.(b) There being no evidence of the existence of such debt, the court properly submitted to the jury the question whether or
not such conveyance was fraudulent as to
creditors.4. The charge of the court complained of
was not without foundation in evidence.5. A court of equity having the parties before it will do full equity. Where the facts
made by the pleadings was whether certain
property belonged to the trust estate of a
debtor's wife or was subject to his debts, a
verdict that it was subject, and that it be sold
and the proceeds be brought into court for
distribution under its order, was not im-
proper.6. The verdict is supported by the evidence.
Judgment affirmed.Smith & Jones; Vason & Alfriend, for plaintiff in error.C. B. Wooten, by W. A. Hawkins; R.
Hobbs; G. J. Wright, for defendants.Mental depression, weakness of the muscu-
lar system, general ill health, benefited by
using Brown's Iron Bitters.

sept26-dawwlv

Jack Frost is a foe to Yellow Jack.

Four Years' Experience of an Old Nurse.

THE WINDING STAIRS SYRUP is the prescrip-
tion of one of the best female physicians and nurse
in the United States, and has been used for forty
years with never failing success by millions of
mothers for their children, and for the cure of
croup, whooping cough, and all the ailments of
infants and young children. It is a simple, safe,
and reliable remedy. Price 10 cents a bottle.
MARRIAGE-SANITARY-WEED

Stone deaf—The little brown jug.

ANGOSTURA BITTERS, the world-renowned
stomach and invigorant, a delicious flavor, and
sprinkles and cures dyspepsia, diarrhoea, fever and
ague. Try it. It is better than counterfeits. Ask
your grocer, or druggist, for Hostetter's Angostura
Bitters. Price 10 cents a bottle. DR. C. H. SIEGEL & SONS
MARRIAGE-SANITARY-WEED

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

CELEBRATED

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

J. H. SIEGEL &amp; SONS

NEW YORK

BOTTLED BY

THE CONSTITUTION,

PUBLISHED DAILY AND WEEKLY

ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION is published every day, except Monday, and is delivered by carriers in the city, or mailed postage free at $1 per month or $3 for three months. 4-10 a year.

THE CONSTITUTION is for sale on all trains leading out of Atlanta, and at newsstands in the principal southern cities.

ADVERTISING RATES depend on location in the paper and will be furnished on application.

CORRESPONDENCE containing important news solicited from all parts of the country.

ADDRESS all letters and telegrams, and make all drafts or checks payable to THE CONSTITUTION, Atlanta, Georgia.

ATLANTA, GA., SEPTEMBER 27, 1882.

The signal service bureau report indicates for South Atlantic states to-day, partly cloudy weather, and local rains, northerly winds; stationary or lower barometer and temperature.

The next great southern fair will probably be held in Baltimore. The people of that city are considering the advantage of forming a stock company with a capital of $500,000, for the purpose of holding an inter-state exhibition of arts and manufactures in 1884. According to the plan permanent buildings would be erected in the expectation of annual exhibitions after that year.

It is said by some in a position to know that the "testimony" of each "witness" before the tariff commission will cost the government four hundred and fifty dollars apiece. At this rate it is no wonder that the self-respect of the commission, or such as it has left after knowingly having been playing a farcical part, made it cut short its stay in Atlanta and made it agree to take little or no more "testimony" in the South.

The election for governor, state house officers, and members of the legislature will be held in this state on the fourth day of October. The legislature meets on the first day of November, and the election for congressmen will be held on the seventh day of November. Some are under the impression that the election for congressmen at large occurs at the time the election for state officers is held. This is a mistake. You do not vote for congressmen-at-large until the seventh day of November. The papers in the state would do well to correct this mistake, as it seems to be general.

Georgia republicans—white—know a thing or two when they see it. The Constitution having told them all about the Jay Hubbell fund, they held up their hands in holy horror and said, "O, my!" and then proceeded, so we learn to-day, to ape Hubbell, Mahone and Kellogg by drawing blood money from the few clerks allotted to Georgia in Uncle Sam's civil service. What, with Jack Brown threatening to throw clerks out of a wooty window and leeches going around trying to bleed them, the unfortunate Georgia stipendiaries in Washington must be wretched.

As almost unprecedented rain-fall occurred last week along the Atlantic coast from Connecticut down to and into North Carolina. It did great deal of damage to bridges and roads, but in the northern states it put an end to a prevailing drought, and made the pastures green again. Frosts have occurred in the latitude of Chicago, but as fully ninety-five per cent of the corn was safe from harm, they did little or no damage. Elsewhere in the country the weather has been and still continues to be all that the man of business or the farmer could desire. It is especially favorable in the southern half of the country.

Two hundred million dollars of Georgia gold lost that might have been saved is the tale we are asked to believe. It is not at all unlikely that, as Dr. Charles says, this great amount has been wasted in "tailings" of ore. It will be remembered that in 1880 there was a great Edison sensation to the effect that he had discovered an electric process for saving the untold millions of gold and silver in the "tailings" of the Colorado and Nevada mines. To-day we are informed that Dr. Charles, of Forsyth county, has accomplished the result, which Edison was said to have done, but from which nothing further has been heard. Dr. Charles, it is to be hoped, will be more successful.

CALIFORNIA and Georgia have an exquisite climate in common, and the fruits of the golden state are common to our own. But with her greater wealth California has greater enterprise than Georgia, and works more experiments in getting profit out of the land. In addition to the grape, California has recently taken up the olive. The Chronicle, of San Francisco, says: Enough has been done by Cooper, of Santa Barbara, the Kimballs, of San Diego, and the Wolfskills, of Solano, in the cultivation of the olive, to demonstrate that the tree thrives well and bears well in California, and hence to establish the fact that it is a profitable tree to cultivate. The trees begin to bear at three years, and when five years old will pay all expenses of tillage and harvesting, with a surplus, while the sixth year the crop will pay for the land, the trees and the tillage for the five years previous, and, with good care, the increase is large from year to year for a century longer. Indeed, there are olive trees in Asia Minor known to be above 1,200 years old, and still in full bearing. In a pamphlet published by Ellwood Cooper, of Santa Barbara, the statement is made that some of his best trees, eight years old, produced two thousand gallons of berries to the acre, and the European standard is eight gallons of berries for one gallon of oil, which gives a product of two hundred and fifty gallons of oil per acre. The oil finds a ready market at five dollars a gallon, which gives an income of $1,250 an acre for the best eight-year old trees in an exceptionally good year. Now, let some south Georgia man make the experiment after looking into the matter and see what the result will be.

OLD MEXICO.

The attention of intelligent people in all sections of the union is being turned to a remarkable extent to our new relations with Mexico. This has been brought about by the railroad enterprises that have been inaugurated under American auspices, looking to direct railroad communication with all parts of the land of silver mines and revolutions. Four lines have been projected to run from the Rio Grande to the city of Mexico, and at least three of these lines will be completed.

The Mexican Central is the best advanced of the four projects, and the chances are that it will enter the city of Mexico ahead of its rivals. This road is an extension of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad—a corporation that is controlled in Boston, and that has a completed trunk line several hundred miles long extending to El Paso, on the Rio Grande. Here begins the Mexican Central, which has just been opened to the city of Chihuahua, distant from El Paso 224 miles. The road has also been completed from Mexico city northward to Leon, a distance of about 400 miles, leaving a gap of about 600 miles. This gap will be filled in the course of next two years, and perhaps branches to both oceans will be finished in that time. The Mexican government has granted a subsidy to the Mexican Central company of $15,200 a mile, payable in customs certificates. At the end of the 99 years the road is to revert to the government. The gauge is to be four feet eight and one-half inches, and it is stipulated that the road throughout its entire length of 1,300 miles is to be constructed in the best manner. South of Chihuahua, once one of the richest cities in Mexico, the road becomes more difficult, and among the mountains there are heavy grades. It is in this section that the road passes through rich mining sections.

Mexico is really a populous country. Farms and ranches and mines and cities are met at every turn. Woolen and cotton mills are not rare, and the productions of the country are by no means insignificant. The truth is, Mexico is a better country than we have generally considered it. It has wants and shortcomings, but it is neither a new nor an undeveloped land. It will need from the United States fabrics that have heretofore been purchased in England or France; there will come up from the land of the Aztecs a demand for improved machinery, modern wagons, and useful implements, and the manufacturers of Atlanta should share in the approaching harvest. Our gins and plows and bags and mining stamps, and even our sun bonnets, can be sent there in profitable competition with those of St. Louis or Chicago; and no doubt young Joe Brown has already compiled a rate table between Atlanta and all points in the province of Chihuahua and tributary places on the northern plateau of our sister republic. If he has not, we feel sure he will, on application, and we trust our manufacturers will manifest equal enterprise by availing themselves of the advantages and profits of this as well as of all similar opportunities.

THE GREEK BOUNDARY.

The sultan has put an end to the Greek boundary trouble by ordering the immediate surrender to Greece of the territory assigned to her by the international commission. This should have been done long ago, and Greece was justified in resorting to force to secure a settlement of the matter.

Greece was to have the Kalamas including Epirus. The treaty of Berlin so provided; but the conference of Constantinople, held in 1881, pushed her down and back from the higher to the lower Olympus, and from the Pterian plain on the north of Platamona to the plain of the Peneios on the south of that fortress. The delimitation commissioners established the new boundary 4,200 metres south of Platamona, thus giving to Greece Karalik Derwend. The Turks refused, however, to move from Karalik Derwend. This led to the recent trouble. The temporary withdrawal of the Turkish troops occupying Karalik Derwend enabled the Greeks to seize it. It was then retaken by the Turks, and since then fighting has been going on between the coveted town and the sea. The scene of the struggle is described as a wild jungle. Behind the combatants was the Peneios, issuing from Tempe, under the shadow of Ossa; on their right was the Egean, with its long drawn surge on the shingly beach—the Egean, with its "Isles of Greece"—and on the horizon afar the peak of the Holy Mountain. On their left were the magnificently forested sides of the Lower Olympus, and before and beyond them, further on the road to the ancient Greek city that took its name from the sister of Alexander the Great, Thessalonica, and before them was the Pterian Plain, the Plain of the Muses, under the sublime heights of the Higher Olympus. Nor are the political less inspiring than the other associations of the scene. The Platamona occupied by the Turks is the Heracleion that was occupied by the Romans after the position at Tempe of Perseus, the last king of Macedonia, was turned by a flank march across the Lower Olympus, and he was obliged to retreat to Eubeia till from that position by another flank march he was dislodged, and thence retreated to make a final and fruitless stand at Pydna.

The surrender of Karalik Derwend and the forced submission of the ports to the wishes of the powers have given Greece partial justice, and has postponed to another occasion a fuller and just settlement of the effects of the Turkish troops occupying Karalik Derwend enabled the Greeks to seize it. It was then retaken by the Turks, and since then fighting has been going on between the coveted town and the sea. The scene of the struggle is described as a wild jungle. Behind the combatants was the Peneios, issuing from Tempe, under the shadow of Ossa; on their right was the Egean, with its long drawn surge on the shingly beach—the Egean, with its "Isles of Greece"—and on the horizon afar the peak of the Holy Mountain. On their left were the magnificently forested sides of the Lower Olympus, and before and beyond them, further on the road to the ancient Greek city that took its name from the sister of Alexander the Great, Thessalonica, and before them was the Pterian Plain, the Plain of the Muses, under the sublime heights of the Higher Olympus. Nor are the political less inspiring than the other associations of the scene. The Platamona occupied by the Turks is the Heracleion that was occupied by the Romans after the position at Tempe of Perseus, the last king of Macedonia, was turned by a flank march across the Lower Olympus, and he was obliged to retreat to Eubeia till from that position by another flank march he was dislodged, and thence retreated to make a final and fruitless stand at Pydna.

The surrender of Karalik Derwend and the forced submission of the ports to the wishes of the powers have given Greece partial justice, and has postponed to another occasion a fuller and just settlement of the effects of the Turkish troops occupying Karalik Derwend enabled the Greeks to seize it. It was then retaken by the Turks, and since then fighting has been going on between the coveted town and the sea. The scene of the struggle is described as a wild jungle. Behind the combatants was the Peneios, issuing from Tempe, under the shadow of Ossa; on their right was the Egean, with its long drawn surge on the shingly beach—the Egean, with its "Isles of Greece"—and on the horizon afar the peak of the Holy Mountain. On their left were the magnificently forested sides of the Lower Olympus, and before and beyond them, further on the road to the ancient Greek city that took its name from the sister of Alexander the Great, Thessalonica, and before them was the Pterian Plain, the Plain of the Muses, under the sublime heights of the Higher Olympus. Nor are the political less inspiring than the other associations of the scene. The Platamona occupied by the Turks is the Heracleion that was occupied by the Romans after the position at Tempe of Perseus, the last king of Macedonia, was turned by a flank march across the Lower Olympus, and he was obliged to retreat to Eubeia till from that position by another flank march he was dislodged, and thence retreated to make a final and fruitless stand at Pydna.

The surrender of Karalik Derwend and the forced submission of the ports to the wishes of the powers have given Greece partial justice, and has postponed to another occasion a fuller and just settlement of the effects of the Turkish troops occupying Karalik Derwend enabled the Greeks to seize it. It was then retaken by the Turks, and since then fighting has been going on between the coveted town and the sea. The scene of the struggle is described as a wild jungle. Behind the combatants was the Peneios, issuing from Tempe, under the shadow of Ossa; on their right was the Egean, with its long drawn surge on the shingly beach—the Egean, with its "Isles of Greece"—and on the horizon afar the peak of the Holy Mountain. On their left were the magnificently forested sides of the Lower Olympus, and before and beyond them, further on the road to the ancient Greek city that took its name from the sister of Alexander the Great, Thessalonica, and before them was the Pterian Plain, the Plain of the Muses, under the sublime heights of the Higher Olympus. Nor are the political less inspiring than the other associations of the scene. The Platamona occupied by the Turks is the Heracleion that was occupied by the Romans after the position at Tempe of Perseus, the last king of Macedonia, was turned by a flank march across the Lower Olympus, and he was obliged to retreat to Eubeia till from that position by another flank march he was dislodged, and thence retreated to make a final and fruitless stand at Pydna.

The surrender of Karalik Derwend and the forced submission of the ports to the wishes of the powers have given Greece partial justice, and has postponed to another occasion a fuller and just settlement of the effects of the Turkish troops occupying Karalik Derwend enabled the Greeks to seize it. It was then retaken by the Turks, and since then fighting has been going on between the coveted town and the sea. The scene of the struggle is described as a wild jungle. Behind the combatants was the Peneios, issuing from Tempe, under the shadow of Ossa; on their right was the Egean, with its long drawn surge on the shingly beach—the Egean, with its "Isles of Greece"—and on the horizon afar the peak of the Holy Mountain. On their left were the magnificently forested sides of the Lower Olympus, and before and beyond them, further on the road to the ancient Greek city that took its name from the sister of Alexander the Great, Thessalonica, and before them was the Pterian Plain, the Plain of the Muses, under the sublime heights of the Higher Olympus. Nor are the political less inspiring than the other associations of the scene. The Platamona occupied by the Turks is the Heracleion that was occupied by the Romans after the position at Tempe of Perseus, the last king of Macedonia, was turned by a flank march across the Lower Olympus, and he was obliged to retreat to Eubeia till from that position by another flank march he was dislodged, and thence retreated to make a final and fruitless stand at Pydna.

The surrender of Karalik Derwend and the forced submission of the ports to the wishes of the powers have given Greece partial justice, and has postponed to another occasion a fuller and just settlement of the effects of the Turkish troops occupying Karalik Derwend enabled the Greeks to seize it. It was then retaken by the Turks, and since then fighting has been going on between the coveted town and the sea. The scene of the struggle is described as a wild jungle. Behind the combatants was the Peneios, issuing from Tempe, under the shadow of Ossa; on their right was the Egean, with its long drawn surge on the shingly beach—the Egean, with its "Isles of Greece"—and on the horizon afar the peak of the Holy Mountain. On their left were the magnificently forested sides of the Lower Olympus, and before and beyond them, further on the road to the ancient Greek city that took its name from the sister of Alexander the Great, Thessalonica, and before them was the Pterian Plain, the Plain of the Muses, under the sublime heights of the Higher Olympus. Nor are the political less inspiring than the other associations of the scene. The Platamona occupied by the Turks is the Heracleion that was occupied by the Romans after the position at Tempe of Perseus, the last king of Macedonia, was turned by a flank march across the Lower Olympus, and he was obliged to retreat to Eubeia till from that position by another flank march he was dislodged, and thence retreated to make a final and fruitless stand at Pydna.

The surrender of Karalik Derwend and the forced submission of the ports to the wishes of the powers have given Greece partial justice, and has postponed to another occasion a fuller and just settlement of the effects of the Turkish troops occupying Karalik Derwend enabled the Greeks to seize it. It was then retaken by the Turks, and since then fighting has been going on between the coveted town and the sea. The scene of the struggle is described as a wild jungle. Behind the combatants was the Peneios, issuing from Tempe, under the shadow of Ossa; on their right was the Egean, with its long drawn surge on the shingly beach—the Egean, with its "Isles of Greece"—and on the horizon afar the peak of the Holy Mountain. On their left were the magnificently forested sides of the Lower Olympus, and before and beyond them, further on the road to the ancient Greek city that took its name from the sister of Alexander the Great, Thessalonica, and before them was the Pterian Plain, the Plain of the Muses, under the sublime heights of the Higher Olympus. Nor are the political less inspiring than the other associations of the scene. The Platamona occupied by the Turks is the Heracleion that was occupied by the Romans after the position at Tempe of Perseus, the last king of Macedonia, was turned by a flank march across the Lower Olympus, and he was obliged to retreat to Eubeia till from that position by another flank march he was dislodged, and thence retreated to make a final and fruitless stand at Pydna.

The surrender of Karalik Derwend and the forced submission of the ports to the wishes of the powers have given Greece partial justice, and has postponed to another occasion a fuller and just settlement of the effects of the Turkish troops occupying Karalik Derwend enabled the Greeks to seize it. It was then retaken by the Turks, and since then fighting has been going on between the coveted town and the sea. The scene of the struggle is described as a wild jungle. Behind the combatants was the Peneios, issuing from Tempe, under the shadow of Ossa; on their right was the Egean, with its long drawn surge on the shingly beach—the Egean, with its "Isles of Greece"—and on the horizon afar the peak of the Holy Mountain. On their left were the magnificently forested sides of the Lower Olympus, and before and beyond them, further on the road to the ancient Greek city that took its name from the sister of Alexander the Great, Thessalonica, and before them was the Pterian Plain, the Plain of the Muses, under the sublime heights of the Higher Olympus. Nor are the political less inspiring than the other associations of the scene. The Platamona occupied by the Turks is the Heracleion that was occupied by the Romans after the position at Tempe of Perseus, the last king of Macedonia, was turned by a flank march across the Lower Olympus, and he was obliged to retreat to Eubeia till from that position by another flank march he was dislodged, and thence retreated to make a final and fruitless stand at Pydna.

to invite their colored tools to search them. We can imagine these worthy white republicans holding up their lily-white hands and winking at each other, while the negroes with bodies bent low and heads bowed down proceeded to go through trousers' pockets. There must have been a terrible raking under the washstand, a serious emptying of drawers, and a terrific turning over of the trash-pile. As a matter of course, the $20,000 fund was not found. If there had been any chance of finding it, the negroes would not have been invited to prosecute the search; for the search—taking it for granted that there was one—was instituted under the auspices of the men who may be supposed to have taken the precaution to sew the money up in a pillow case. The negroes have not found it, nor will they find it, and it will profit them just as much to believe that the statements of THE CONSTITUTION are based on incorrect information, as to believe that their worthy political masters are reserving the money for the campaign of 1890. That is to say, the attitude of the negroes will have no sort of bearing on the disposition to be made of the money, though we have no doubt that the prompt announcement of its arrival in Atlanta was somewhat embarrassing to the bosses.

In this connection, however, it may be said that the sending of the fund into Georgia ought to be very embarrassing to the republican party at large. It is part of a disgraceful swindle inaugurated by the corruptists who manage the campaign. Honest republicans all over the country have grown tired of the methods of robbery employed by Jay Hubbell under the auspices of the party leaders. In Pennsylvania, the revolt is widespread, and it is beginning to make itself felt in New York, although the campaign there has barely opened. The Jay Hubbell programme is a swindle upon the people, who pay the office-holders; it is a swindle upon the office-holders who are robbed; and it is an outrage upon decency. At its best the system is infamous, but all its worst qualities are magnified when the pretense is made in Washington that it is necessary to send a corruption fund to Georgia to purchase the negro vote. We have no doubt that the negroes who bootlick the republican leaders in public and private are anxious to leave the impression that it is necessary to use money, in the hope that they may be enabled to secure some of the "sugar," as they are pleased to call it, but the whole thing is hatched up for the purpose of putting an additional reward into the pockets of white office-holders. The money that has been sent to Georgia will not be used in buying up negro votes nor for any other political purpose. The men who have received it, as well as the men who sent it, know that the coalition campaign is an utterly hopeless one, and they have known this from the start. They know that republicanism in no shape or form can ever hope to secure control of Georgia again. Why, then, it may be asked, have the federal office-holders pretended to interest themselves in a farcical campaign? Merely because they felt that they were losing their power to control the negro. They have arrayed that unfortunate race on the color line and organized it in order to show the administration that they still retain their power over the negroes and are enabled to manipulate them at will. In return for their influence, these white republicans are not only given all the important offices, but when there is a surplus campaign fund, they come in for their share to the exclusion of the negroes. Who will say they are not shrewd?

YOUNG THOMAS HARTMAN'S canvass will include the whole of Georgia before he is through. It is a laborious one, to say the least, but he likes to talk to the people, and the people like to hear him. He is about as close to the affections of Georgians as a public man ever gets to be.

The coalition cause is now fixed to a stake ready to clear for salt river. General Garrett needn't hesitate to make the trip. Candidates with more votes than he could get in a seven years' canvass have been compelled to set forth upon this journey.

CONGRESSMAN BLOUNT is moving serenely through his district, meeting his constituents and giving them some old fashioned talks from the stump. Mr. Blount has the entire state at his back, and in congress he manages to represent the whole south.

SOME of the New York ladies who tickled Chase Cox under the chin and sent him billy dogs are thinking whether they shall "cut" Mrs. Langtry or not. If Mrs. Langtry is well managed, she will "cut" these society ladies.

EDITOR DAVID WARE, of Dublin, desires it distinctly understood that he is editor of the Gazette, and not of the Post. Mr. Mark C. Greene, formerly of Eatonton, is now connected with the Gazette.

AFTER the Markham house caucus, the coalition started out to gobble up the state of Georgia. If you will take off your things and stay with us until next Wednesday, you will see the result.

It is generally conceded that Steve French, of New York, is assistant president from about nine o'clock at night until seven in the morning. He takes the presidential cork screw.

The agility with which the esteemed New York Tribune falls into the Guinean procession shows that there is something more substantial than principles in modern politics.

It is generally admitted by the respectable republican press that the character of Candidate Cleveland, of New York, commands him to the honest voices of the state.

The Chattanooga newspaper publisher wants Arabi killed. This shows that even a Chattanooga newspaper publisher can be bloodthirsty when he tries.

It is to be borne in mind that the democracy of Georgia has two charming qualities this season. It is Jeffersonian and it is solid.

The people of Georgia look upon the coalition precisely as senator will did—as an instrument for restoring the republican party to power.

The trade issue of the American Recorder was more than credible. It was a big thing for Editor Gleason, but a bigger thing for Americans.

INSTEAD of writing cards for THE CONSTITUTION the republican campaign managers ought to put up a sign, "No sugar in here."

The Guinean campaign in New York is already beginning to lag.

STATE POLITICS.

Clifford Anderson will speak at Marietta to-morrow. C. R. McGregor is the democratic candidate for the house in Warren. The negroes of Hancock county are going to put out a ticket for the legislature. The appointment of Judge Ansley to the south-western circuit gives satisfaction to the people of America. Judge Henry B. Tompkins has not resigned from the bench yet and will not do so until the next legislature meets.

St. J. Hammond's speech at Fayetteville Monday greatly pleased the people and gave the Stephens men fresh enthusiasm.

In Campbell the legislative candidates are John L. Camp, Stephen Mahone and Dr. W. S. Zellars. Camp is the democratic nominee.

The independent in the thirty-sixth senatorial district have succeeded in getting out a candidate. Dr. T. M. Brantley, of Seneca, is the man.

Where will Mr. Garrett land? To what party will he belong? He has no claim to any other than the republican party—Clifford Anderson.

The Garrett open air meetings were announced to occur every day in Atlanta, but after the affair of Saturday afternoon they seem to have dropped through.

Dr. Thomas H. Baker, of Cartersville, once a supporter of the Bell place, once a publicist state that he will vote for John C. Clements and Alexander H. Stephens.

John Pilcher, of Warren, says that his county will give Stephens a rousing majority. The colored people are not heeding the advice of the Garrett missionaries.

A handsome Stephens banner is suspended over Marietta street, under the capitol and the post office. It was put up by the Young Men's Stephens club of Atlanta.

There is a colored Candler club in Clarke that numbers 150 members. Candler's friends claim that he will carry the county though it is Speer's old stronghold.

Lawyer Collier, of Savannah, will oppose Lawyer Adams, of the same place, for the superior court judgeship of the eastern circuit. So says the Darien Timber Gazette.

A Madison correspondent wants to know when the election of a congressman-at-large will take place. All congressmen of Georgia will be elected on the 7th of November.

H. W. J. Ham, editor of the Gainesville Eagle, is going to be the candidate for the judgeship of the Northwestern circuit, and his friends in all parts of the state think he should be unanimously elected.

"From the present aspect of things," says the Griffin sun, "it looks like Dr. Drewry is making his race for the legislature in the wrong year. The democratic nominees will be elected in Spalding this time."

The vote of the Washington county primaries for the judgeship of the circuit was, C. R. Pringle, 328; H. G. Wright, 457; T. J. Gilmore, 379; L. B. Kendrick, 315. Messrs. Pringle and Wright were declared the nominees of the democracy.

In Elbert, Oglethorpe and several other counties, colored democrats actively participated in the primaries. It is said to their honor that they are generally abiding by all nominations and are actively at work for the democratic candidates, county, state and congressional.

Coloel S. B. Spencer is doing good service for democracy in southern Georgia. He spoke yesterday at Cochran, and will return home to-day. Reports from all points in southern Georgia come in showing that part of the state solid for Mr. Stephens and the democratic ticket.

J. A. Ansley, the new judge of the southwestern circuit, will once assume the duties of his office. Before leaving Atlanta he was the recipient of a complimentary banquet at the Markham house, tendered by the members of the bar of his circuit, then in the city and by Judge Sam Hall, of Macon.

The Swainsboro Herald thus describes the legislative race in Emanuel: "Candidate Jesse A. Brinson says he's going to be re-elected on the 4th of next month; candidate Morris Dawson says his chances are good; candidate Thos. B. Felder says he's going to be the best man in the race, while Mr. H. G. Wright, 457; T. J. Gilmore, 379; L. B. Kendrick, 315. Messrs. Pringle and Wright were declared the nominees of the democracy.

The last visit," says the Monroe Advertiser that Mr. Stephens made to Forsyth was 15 1/2. That time is referred to by the older inhabitants as "the biggest day the town ever saw." There was a "bottle of giants" on that day. A quartette of four of the grandest men Georgia ever produced met in a state of high good will in the town of Forsyth, and A. H. Stephens was on one side, representing the whigs, and Messrs. Herschel V. Johnson and Walter T. C. Wright were there democratic opponents. An immense crowd was present, people came from other counties, and the excitement was intense.

The combatants were in their prime, and were as equally matched as any two men in the state could have been. Wouldn't you like to have been there? The state of Georgia never furnished a grander political debate than that—the whole United States, for that matter—for those four men ranked with any in the union. What a contest it must have been. The whigs contended that Mr. Stephens should have the close, well knowing his wonderful power in reviewing and closing a debate; but the democrats outgeneraled them and got the close of the debate, which the whigs were so proudly disgruntled. It has not yet been decided which side whipped. Both have ever claimed the victory."

THE SAVANNAH CANVASS.

The Regular Delegates from Chatham Refuse to Abide the Action of the Senatorial Convention. Savannah, September 25.—The democratic senatorial convention, which met at Elder to-day, decided to allow a half vote to each of the contesting delegates from Chatham. The regular or theatre wing delegate refused to abide the decision, and thereupon withdrew from the convention. The St. Andrews hall or Russell wing remaining. Ex-Governor John A. Rawls, of Edinburg county, was nominated on the fourth ballot. The Russell wing held a large ratification meeting at St. Andrews hall to-day evening. Several speakers addressed the meeting, and Mr. Smith, a senatorial delegate from Edinburg, passed some heavy strictures on the theater wing. Mr. J. J. O'Connor, the theater wing delegate, replied to the charges, and the theater wing county organization, and now the latter charge the former with bolting the district organization.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE.

GENERAL P. M. B. YOUNG is a guest at the Kimball.

MESSRS. MOODY AND SANKEY will hold a two weeks' series of services in Paris, beginning October 8.

It is not probable that Mr. John Bright will ever visit America. He has frequently expressed the desire to do so, but seems to shrink from the Atlantic voyage.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR ROBERTSON and lady, of Louisiana, are in the city, the guests of Mr. H. Casleman, on Peachtree. Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. Casleman are sisters.

THE SYRACUSE Standard, a republican newspaper, says of Grover Cleveland, the democratic candidate for governor of New York: "He appears to fully justify all the fine things his friends have said about him, and unquestionably he is a strong man."

MRS. GARFIELD wishes the people to know that she has not abandoned Mentor, her home will be there, though she expects to live in Cleveland during the winter, so that her children may go to good schools.

THE late S. G. French, a wealthy bachelor of Oregon, left a farm of many thousands acres to a school for young women in that state. His annual income from the farm was more than $10,000.

SIR FREDERICK LIGHTON, president of the Royal Academy, has just left London for long tour in the east, intending to visit Constantinople, and then to proceed to Jerusalem and the Holy Land, returning to England by way of the present seat of war in Egypt.

SISTER MARY JOHN, who for over half a century had been the matron of the St. Joseph's orphan asylum in Philadelphia, died there yesterday. During her last sickness hundreds of well-to-do women, once "waifs" under her charge, besieged the asylum with inquiries or loving ministrations. A requiem mass will be performed at her funeral.

Louise Michel some time ago told the women of Paris who listen to her harangues that the way for them to do when oppressed by their husbands was to strike. She has now gone further than mere words in this matter. She is engaged in forming what she calls an "International League of Women Against Their Tyrants," and has started a subscription in aid of her object. She proposes that men, until they have secured certain political rights to women, shall be socially "boycotted."

CURRENT COMMENT.

And Hurrah for Gulliver. St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Hurrah for Arthur. Hurrah for Folger. Hurrah for Conkling.

Arbitrator of the Firm. St. Louis Post-Dispatch. The partnership heretofore existing between O'Donovan and Rossa and Arabi Pasha is this day dissolved by mutual consent. O'Donovan Rossa will continue business at the old stand.

A Good Paper to Take. Valdo Times. The columns of THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION devoted to state politics give thorough and comprehensive information in regard to the progress of the state campaign. This is but in keeping with the well known energy and enterprise of this most excellent journal.

The Candidate of Reform. New York World. The delegates to the democratic convention build better than they knew. They learned yesterday that their work of Thursday in the nomination of Cleveland had hit the bull's eye and rung the bell.

Not in the history of the democratic party in New York for twenty years past has there been so much of a unanimous and so enthusiastic a response to a democratic nomination to the governorship.

Obnoxious Colors. Philadelphia Press. Two tons of silver three cent pieces are now in the mint awaiting recoinage into ten cent pieces. Several tons additional are stored in the sub-treasury elsewhere to meet with a similar fate in due season. Over forty tons of this small coin have been inflicted upon the country, the greater portion of which has probably insinuated itself into convenient cracks and crevices, and thus gone quietly out of circulation. The best thing that could be done with the remainder is to put them into the pot and melt them up. It would be a great gain to the country if there were thrown in with these all the five cent pieces, twenty cent pieces and trade dollars now troubling the country.

The Trade Issue. Nashville Banner. The trade issue of THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, published last Saturday, is highly creditable to that journal. Atlanta is growing rapidly, but THE CONSTITUTION always keeps ahead of the times.

Griffin News. Yesterday morning the mammoth trade issue of THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, consisting of twenty-four pages, came out and was received by subscribers with much interest. It is entirely too large to review here.

Savannah Times. THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION'S trade issue of twenty-four well printed pages has arrived. It certainly eclipses any effort in that line which has come to hand as yet, and is a perfect encyclopedia of Atlanta and Alabama's numerous enterprises.

Americus Recorder. We are in receipt of the trade issue of THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, which is an exhaustive review of the business of the commercial year, a statement of the increase in property and population, an account of the railroad system, of the built, and the many new enterprises on foot, etc. It is a most valuable work for the business activity and general outlook of the "Gate City."

New Orleans Times-Democrat. THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, one of the liveliest papers in the south—always bright and brimful of news—issued its trade edition on the 23d instant, an edition of 24 pages, containing an exhaustive review of the business of the commercial year, a statement of the increase in property and population, an account of the railroad system, of the built, and the many new enterprises on foot, etc. It is a most valuable work for the business activity and general outlook of the "Gate City."

THE NEW COMET. From the New York Times. Eight or nine years ago there was a rumor that M. Plantamour, a distinguished European astronomer, had discovered a comet that would certainly come in collision with the earth in the course of a few months. At first both Plantamour and his comet were derided as impostors, but when it was finally discovered that Plantamour was a real person, and a brilliant astronomer, many people hesitated to believe that his alleged comet was also real. It was then a good deal of alarm fell among those who were ignorant of astronomy, but this alarm subsided when M. Plantamour expressly declared that he had discovered a comet or that he had ever imagined that a comet would strike the earth. The other day M. Plantamour died, and by a singular coincidence a comet was almost simultaneously discovered in the act of rushing directly at

GOULD'S SCHEME.

How He Attempted to Gain Control of the Associated Press.

Special dispatch to the Philadelphia Times.

New York, September 26.—The revelation by the Herald and Times this morning of Jay Gould's attempt to secure control of the Associated Press has been the talk of the town to-day. While more or less gossip about such a scheme on Gould's part has been floating into papers, this is the first authoritative announcement on the subject made by any member of the association and the public naturally concludes that the danger of his success must be great to the south, since he is now in the hands of the Herald and Times. The story of Gould's campaign in newspaper fields is full of interest. When he secured control of the paper founded by Horace Greeley, most people supposed that he only wanted an office to help on his stock jobbing schemes and had taken the Tribune for that purpose. But this was only one of his objects in becoming a newspaper proprietor. A gentleman who was intimately associated with Gould and familiar with his plans told a friend, as long as two years ago, that the great ambition of the speculator was to control the news service of the country, and to bring this about he would become master of the eastern Union and the cable service and finally of the associated press.

CARRYING OUT HIS PLANS.

His ventures in the telegraphic field have been crowned with success and for a time equally good fortune was smiling in the other direction. It was an easy thing to follow the conquest of the Tribune with that of the World which gave him two out of the four members of the association necessary for a majority. The purchase of the Express by Cyrus W. Field, whose schemes harmonized with his own, gave him virtually control of a third paper and made only one more necessary. Naturally Gould's first idea was to capture the Journal of Commerce, a venerable morning newspaper, which many people outside of New York never heard of, devoted to financial and commercial matters, and with but small circulation, although enjoying a large advertising patronage. The editor and chief owner of this paper is David M. Stone, a gentleman of the old school with some healthy ideas of stock jobbing and monopolies. Gould approached him and made a liberal offer for the whole or a controlling interest in the Journal of Commerce. He was willing to pay a good deal more than the paper was worth, but Mr. Stone quietly yet emphatically assured him that he could not offer enough to buy it, and declined to discuss the matter further.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT AT CAPTURE.

Gould's next move was an attempt to get hold of the Times, and the story of that venture is here told for the first time. As is well known, a large majority of the stock of that paper is held by George Jones, the rest being divided among a number of small holders. One evening not long before Mr. Jones sailed from this city for his last summer's trip to Europe he was sitting in his library, when a servant brought in a card bearing the name of Jay Gould. The card upon which the name appeared, but their relations had never been intimate, and Mr. Jones was consequently not a little curious as to the motive for the call. His visitor did not long leave him in doubt. After a few remarks he passed on different topics, Gould suddenly said:

"Mr. Jones, I have called here this evening to offer you one million dollars for one more than half of the shares of the New York Times."

Mr. Jones was naturally somewhat startled, but he did not hesitate as to his reply.

"Mr. Gould," he said, "the New York Times is not for sale and it will be impossible for you to make such a purchase."

Gould was evidently rather disconcerted by the promptness and positiveness of refusal and turned the conversation in another direction, but his mind was still set on the purchase and he presently returned to the subject with the insinuating remark:

"Mr. Jones, it is a mere question of terms there need be no trouble. I will give you a million and a quarter dollars for a controlling interest in the Times."

This time Mr. Jones was still more emphatic and said:

"Mr. Gould, there is not money enough in New York city to buy the Times and there is no use talking about it."

Such a reply left no opening for making further attempts at a bargain and after a few remarks on other matters the would-be purchaser started to leave. But it still seemed impossible for him to give up the project, and as the two stood in the hall and Gould had his hand on the door knob, he said:

"Mr. Jones, if the time should ever come when you should feel differently about the matter we were speaking of, I hope you will send me word, and I have no doubt we can come to terms."

It is hardly necessary to add that the word has never been sent, and the Times and the Journal of Commerce and the Times and the impossibility of doing anything with the Herald, left no other member of the association, except the Sun, but the aggressively hostile tone of that paper to-day and yesterday and to-day evidently demonstrated the story that the speculator had captured Dana. For the present, therefore, Gould's scheme appears to be effectually blocked.

THE TURF YESTERDAY.

The First Race of the Louisville Spring Meeting—The Newmarket Races.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., September 26.—First race—Association purse $500; one and one-eighth miles. Fair Play won easily; Monte-gomery 2. Albrook 3, time 1:30 3/4.

Second race—St. Leger stakes for three-year-olds, $100; entrance half forfeit with $1,000 added; two miles. Apollo won easily; Boatsman 2, time 3:55 1/2.

Third race—Association purse $300; mile heats. Mediator won the first two heats and the race, time 1:44 1/2, 1:45.

Fourth race, Falls City stakes, for all ages, fifty dollars entrance, $500 added; divided, 1 1/2 miles. Freedom won under pull by a length. Katie Creel second, Anglia third, time 2:42 1/2. Mr. Kerkman has purchased Mediator for $2,000.

THE NEW MARKET MEETING.

LONDON, September 26.—The first October meeting at Newmarket began to-day. The race for the fourth great foal stakes for three-year-olds was won by Lord Falkland's brown filly Dutch Oven. Mr. Evelyn's brown colt and Leopold de Rothschild's chestnut filly Nellie ran a dead heat for the second place. There were seven starters, including Kildare's brown colt Gerold. The race for the Hopeful stakes for two-year-olds was won by Beau Brummal; W. S. Crawford's brown colt Macbeth second, and the Duke of Hamilton's bay colt Expert third. Seven started, including Lord Falkland's chestnut filly Verano and J. R. Keene's bay colt Crown Prince. The race for the first Nursery stakes, for two-year-olds, was won by Sir J. D. Astley's brown colt Saucy Boy; Lord Vivian's bay filly Inconstant second, and Lord Castlereagh's chestnut filly Pertinacious third. Ten started, including Lord Falkland's bay colt Massimo.

Gould Going Away.

New York, September 26.—The Sun's Wall Street gossip says: Here is something that is not gossip, but stern fact, and fact known as yet to but very few. Mr. Gould is going to leave New York for a two years' voyage around the world. He is making all the necessary preparations for it. He has been studying John Russell Young's book, "Around the World with General Grant." He is building, or going to build, the largest and fastest steam yacht afloat, and hopes to be ready for his trip by the fourth of July next. Whether under such circumstances he is more likely to accumulate stocks than to dispose of those he has got is for the great winds of Wall Street to decide.

A False Rumor about the Queen.

LONDON, September 26.—There is no foundation whatever for the rumor sent hence to a New York paper that the queen was shot at yesterday at Balmoral.

The Lawyer's Lunch Bill.

WASHINGTON, September 25.—The Critic to-day prints the following, relative to a new phase of the star route trial:

"These who imagine that Bliss, Merrick, Kerr, Woodward, and occasionally the attorney general, did not live well during the star route trial will perhaps change their minds when they learn that the department of justice, under the supervision of Mr. Bliss, has approved a bill presented by Mr. Dave Hagerty for lunch furnished by him from his restaurant, opposite the court house, for the sum of $337. Mr. Hagerty, after the trial was ended, presented this bill to the department of justice. The department referred it to Mr. Bliss, who approved it; whereupon a warrant was issued for the payment thereof. The bill included 39 bottles of champagne and three boxes of real Victrolas. The lunch usually consisted of cold salads, soup and chicken croquettes. After September 1 read birds were added."

Mrs. Scoville's Latest Cranks.

CHICAGO, September 26.—Geo. Scoville, of Guiteau trial fame, has filed a cross-bill for divorce from his wife on the grounds of adultery and evil associations. As specifications to these charges he asserts that Mrs. Scoville is intimate with George Francis Train and Doctor Mary Walker. He also alleges that she fell desperately in love with one George E. Earle, and that she visited him so constantly that he was obliged to change his boarding house, and finally he had to forbid her coming to his office; that the two kept up a constant correspondence; that she told her husband she was as much Earle's wife as if she had been married to him one hundred years.

Railroad Accident in India.

AGRAH, September 25.—While a mixed passenger and baggage train was crossing the river Drave, near Egeek, yesterday, a part of the bridge fell in and the engine and baggage cars were pitched into the river, dragging with them some of the passenger cars containing a number of buzzards or furlough. Fifteen soldiers were drowned and thirty others were injured. The coupling chains breaking, the remainder of the train slipped on the bridge. The accident is attributed to high water. The bridge is of wood.

The Yellow Fever.

BROWNVILLE, Texas, September 26.—The water is gradually disappearing from the streets. The people complain much of not receiving their mails. There were five new cases of yellow fever to-day, and one death from that disease, the victim being Colonel George Godfrey Davis, deputy collector of customs at Point Isabel, who died at 9 o'clock this morning.

Famine in Labrador.

QUEBEC, September 26.—The new prefect apostolic named by the pope over the district of the north shore of the St. Lawrence, from Blanc Sablon to Hudson bay, makes a general appeal for public charity in behalf of the scattered settlers and fishermen of the Labrador coast, threatened with starvation through the utter failure of crops and of the seal and cod fisheries.

Blood in His Eye and a Colt in His Pocket.

TOLEDO, September 26.—Last night a book-binder named James McGrath, aged nineteen, eloped with his boarding mistress, aged fifty-nine. The latter is married and is the mother of eight children. The pair left for Chicago, and the husband started west tonight with blood in his eye and a heavy Colt's revolver in his hip pocket.

A Louisville Jewelry Store Robbed.

LOUISVILLE, September 26.—Three strange men entered the jewelry store of Cook & Sloss, looked over some goods on pretense of making a purchase, and without doing so, left the store. The proprietors soon discovered that the shop had been robbed of stock valued at $5,000. The articles consist of diamond jewelry.

The Czar and His Wife.

ST. PETERSBURG, September 26.—The emperor and empress, accompanied by their children, arrived at Peterhof palace to-day on their return from Moscow.

Organizing for Stephens.

A Stephens club for the second and third wards was organized last night at the city hall. J. T. Holloman was chosen president, Porter King, vice president, and Wallace Reid, secretary. The meeting was very largely attended and much enthusiasm manifested. Ringing speeches were made by Captain W. D. Ellis, Mr. E. A. Angier and Judge S. B. Hoyt. The club adjourned subject to call of the president.

The Fourth Ward Stephens Club organized.

last night at Judge Rea's court room, by electing Luman F. Smith, president, Wm. M. Williams, vice president, and C. J. Harden, secretary. A motion was carried directing the president to report to the club at its next meeting an executive committee and that this club meet again next Friday night at a place to be fixed hereafter, due to the fact of building of the new court house, which will be given. There was a good attendance.

A Big Fire.

About 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon an alarm of fire was sounded from engine house No. 1, and in a few seconds the fire brigade was hurrying out. Wheat street in the direction of the dense column of smoke which indicated that the fire was in the eastern portion of the city, but before the brigade had gone far it was ascertained that the fire was beyond the fire limits, and that they could do no good there returned. By the fire the Atlanta national bank's building, located on the Air-Line road, were almost entirely consumed. The building was stored with new machinery and quite a stock of valuable material, which made the loss about $4,000.

THE WERNER CONCERT.

Mr. Werner's reputation as a violinist, and the accompanying artistic help of Madame Werner and the Misses Gady, drew enough people to the concert hall to fill it to the top. The programme, which is given below, consisted of eight numbers, the majority of which were repeated once or more. With the full and well trained quality of Madame Werner's rich soprano, and the equally artistic efforts of the Misses Gady, Atlanta people are well as well as acquainted. The interest of the evening centered in Herr Werner's cello playing. To make the most adverse criticism first, one might well say that he handles the violin too much as if it were a violin, and failed to draw out the richest, deepest tones of the instrument. When this has been said, however, his playing is an expert and plays with ease and masterful strength. His style is robust and he affects strong rapid work rather than delicate effects. His Cuban dance was an admirable tour de force and pleased immensely. The whole evening's concert afforded a rare musical treat.

PROGRAMME.

1. Introduction and Polonaise, Chopin. (Duo Concerto for piano and violin) Miss M. Gady, Mrs. Werner.
2. A. Kamenoi Ostrov, b. Galop, Rubenstein, Miss Harriet Gady.
3. Waldteufel (Forest Bird) Tichsen, (Soprano and violin) Madame M. Werner, Miss M. Gady, Mrs. Werner.
4. Introduction and Polonaise, Chopin. (Duo Concerto for piano and violin) Miss M. Gady, Mrs. Werner.
5. The Violet, Mozart, b. Tyrolean Song, Proch, Madame Werner.
6. Polonaise, b. Major, Liszt, Miss Harriet Gady.
7. Cuban Dance, "Carita and Banjo," Werner, (Solo for violin) Mrs. Werner.
8. He. These, Schubert, Kuesen, (Quartette for Mezzo soprano, tenor and baritone) Miss S. Gady, Messrs. Bradley, Top, Gady.

An Old Institution to Disappear.

No. 1 fire company was chartered about 1857, and after many years of faithful service have "stepped down and out." Having sold their apparatus with the exception of the steam fire engine, which was generously donated to the city, they will today, through Mr. H. H. Knapp, offer their engine house and lot on Broad street, near centrally located, for sale this morning at 1 o'clock. Capitalists should not fail to attend this sale, as it certainly is the best piece of property offered for sale to-day in Atlanta.

The extensive improvement going up all around the beautiful property that must be sold to-day in order for it to rapidly increase in value in a very short time. See description in ten cent column and attend sale. J. A. FRIEDMAN. 11:30.

Supreme Court of Georgia.

ATLANTA, Ga., September 26, 1882.
List of circuits showing the cases remaining undisposed of:

|                        |    |                       |    |
|------------------------|----|-----------------------|----|
| Southwestern circuit.  | 11 | Augusta circuit.      | 18 |
| Atlanta circuit.       | 12 | Middle circuit.       | 19 |
| Chattahoochee circuit. | 13 | Ocmulgee circuit.     | 20 |
| Macon circuit.         | 14 | Brunswick circuit.    | 21 |
| Flint circuit.         | 15 | Eastern circuit.      | 22 |
| Coweta circuit.        | 16 | Northeastern circuit. | 23 |
| Rome circuit.          | 17 | Atlanta circuit.      | 24 |
| Cherokee circuit.      | 18 |                       |    |

SOUTHWESTERN CIRCUIT.

No. 6. Argument concluded.
No. 7. Thomas vs. State. Assault with intent to murder. Argued. Guerry & Son; J. J. Black, for plaintiff in error. C. B. Hudson, solicitor general, for the state.
No. 8. Marshall vs. State. Dismissed.
No. 9. Williams et al., ex'rs., vs. Black et al. Equity from Statute. Argued. J. L. Albritton; Allen Fort; W. A. Hawkins, for plaintiffs in error. Lanier & Anderson; Guerry & Son, for defendants.
No. 10. Withdrawn.
No. 11. Mingo Trust vs. Baiden. Rule against sheriff from Statute. Argued. J. A. Ansley; W. B. Hawkins, for plaintiff in error. Fort & Simmons; C. B. Hudson, for defendant.

MIDDLE CIRCUIT.

No. 13. Laramore vs. Bank of America. Appeal from Lee. Argued. J. F. Watson; Hawkins & Hawkins, for plaintiff in error. Guerry & Son, for defendant.
No. 14. Childers vs. Holloway. Equity. From Schley. Argued. J. N. Scarborough; C. B. Hudson; Guerry & Son, for plaintiff in error. J. N. Hudson; J. A. Ansley; Hawkins & Hawkins; Allen Fort, for defendant.
No. 15. Childers vs. Holloway. Certiorari, from Schley. Argued. J. H. Scarborough; C. B. Hudson; Guerry & Son, for plaintiff in error. J. N. Hudson; J. A. Ansley; Hawkins & Hawkins; Allen Fort, for defendant.

EASTERN CIRCUIT.

No. 16. Chapman et al. vs. Sellers. Dismissed.
No. 17. Withdrawn.
No. 18. Bryan et al. vs. Stultz. Complaint, from Lee. Argued. J. H. Scarborough; C. B. Hudson; Guerry & Son, for plaintiff in error. J. N. Hudson; Thomas P. Pickett; B. B. Hinton; Hawkins & Hawkins, for defendant.
Pending argument of Mr. Fort, court adjourned until 10 a. m. to-morrow. One injunction at heel of this circuit.

A Preacher on His Muscles.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., September 26.—A Gazette special says there was great excitement at Searcy, Ark., this afternoon, caused by a personal encounter between Captain McCauley, editor of the Record, and Rev. J. H. Dyer, presiding elder of the district. An article in to-day's Record angered Dyer, and meeting McCauley, he knocked him down, and was pulled off by the bystanders. The origin of the trouble was prohibitory. Dyer being a laborer in the movement and McCauley bitterly opposed.

Remanded to Jail.

ARMAGH, September 26.—Eight men charged with treason felony, four of whom had only recently been liberated from Killmainham jail, have been remanded. It is understood that the crown has obtained evidence from an informer who made extraordinary revelations in regard to the existence of a wide spread conspiracy.

A Prisoner Burned.

CINCINNATI, September 26.—The prisoners in the county jail are allowed coal oil lamps to read by at night. Last night the lamp of Edward Seddon exploded while he was asleep in bed. He was covered with the burning oil and burned so badly that he will probably die. He was confined on a charge of attempted outrage on a little girl.

Returned to Work.

BOSTON, September 26.—The boys who struck at the Souwerville glass works on Monday for an increase of pay all returned to work to-day under the threat of the chief of police that he would make them go to school.

GILT EDGE CENTRAL PROPERTY!

CHOICEST RAILROAD FRONT!

I WILL SELL ON THE PREMISES AT 11 A. M. 1/2 West side, September 27, that splendid property known as

No. 1 Fire Company's Engine House.

No. 25 South Broad street.

This property, fronting 42 feet on Broad street, between Broadway and Peachtree street, and Marietta—is without exception the most choice central property that will be put on the market in this city. It is a building of 10,000 square feet of floor space, and is a most desirable place for any kind of business. The entire lot is covered with a most substantial two-story brick building, lower story of which is now used as the central station for the Atlanta fire department, while in the second story is a magnificent ball room, and a most desirable place for the rear are rooms which have been used as sleeping apartments for the firemen.

100 Feet Along the Line of the Central R.R.

As it is, in fact, along the Atlanta and West Point railroad, the Western and Atlantic railroad, the Georgia Pacific railroad, and the Cincinnati and Georgia railroad, running from its central location, directly the choicest piece of property offered for sale to-day in the city of Atlanta.

This property never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low-test, short-weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cases. Wholesale by Boynton Bros., Atlanta, Ga.

APPOINTMENTS.

HON. GEORGE N. LESTER will address the citizens of Douglas and adjacent counties at 10:30 A. M. on SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 30th, at 11 o'clock a. m. sept26-27

JUDGE GEO. N. LESTER will address the citizens of Forsyth county, in CUMMING on TUESDAY, the 3d of OCTOBER, on the political issue of the day. sept26-27

HON. THOMAS HARDENMAN, Democratic candidate for Congressman at Large, has made the following appointments: RINGOLD, September 26th. DALTON, September 27th. CULLITON, September 28th. sept26-27

JEWELRY.

FREEMAN &amp; CRANKSHAW,

Are receiving daily

NEW GOODS

31 WHITEHALL STREET.

febt-dly 51p

IF YOU WANT

A REALLY GOOD

STEEL PEN

Ask your Stationer or send 25 cents in stamps for a box containing two dozen of

NICKEL, GILT, AND ASSORTED PATENT-MADE MATCHES.

Sold by all Stationers.

Isaac Blackman, Taylor & Co., SOLE AGENTS, NEW YORK.

aug10-dly wed No 4

FLAVORING EXTRACTS.

NATURAL FRUIT FLAVORS.

Dr. Price's SPECIAL

FLAVORING EXTRACTS.

Prepared from the choicest Fruits, without coloring, poisonous oils, acids or artificial Essences. Always uniform in strength, without any adulterations or impurities. Have gained their reputation from their perfect purity, superior strength and quality. Admitted by all who have used them as the most delicate, grateful and natural flavor for cakes, puddings, creams, etc.

MANUFACTURED BY STEELE & PRICE, Chicago, Ill., and St. Louis, Mo.

Wholesale and Retail by Dr. Price's Orange Sizing Powder, and Dr. Price's Orange Sizing Powder.

WE MAKE NO SECOND GRADE GOODS.

may20-dly sun wed fri top col nx rd mat 1 4 6

sp4 dly 8p 2p

FUNERAL NOTICE.

LEAK.—The relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Leak, and the members of the Church of Christ, are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Leak, at the residence, 14 Jennings street, this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Notice is Hereby Given

THAT THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE stockholders of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad Company, for the election of directors and transaction of such other business as may come before said meeting, will be held at Knoxville, Tennessee, on Wednesday, the 8th day of November, 1882.

Transfer books will remain closed from October 14th to November 10th.

L. M. SCHWAB, Secretary.

sep 26-dly 10p 110 Broadway, New York.

NOTICE.

IT IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT APPLICATION WILL be made to the General Assembly at its next meeting, for the passage of a Bill to be entitled an Act to License W. A. Shaw, of the county of Fulton and State of Georgia, to practice medicine and surgery in the State of Georgia.

W. A. SHAW.

Administrator's Sale

BY VIRTUE OF AN ORDER GRANTED AT the September Term, 1882, of the Court of Ordinary of Jasper county, I will sell on the first Tuesday in November next, to-wit: the 13th day of November, 1882, at public sale, on the premises, the place house and lot at Monticello, in said county—the place of Sheriff's sales—between the legal heirs, one hundred and fifty acres of land, more or less, belonging to the estate of John M. Crow, deceased, adjoining lands of the Stewart place, John W. Crow, the same place, and Dr. A. F. White, known as the place on which Eliza Crow died; sold for distribution between the heirs at law said John M. Crow, deceased, September 23, 1882.

JOSEPH C. FENDERBUSH, Administrator.

sep 27-wed

K. H. KNAPP, AUCTIONEER

GILT EDGE CENTRAL PROPERTY!

CHOICEST RAILROAD FRONT!

I WILL SELL ON THE PREMISES AT 11 A. M. 1/2 West side, September 27, that splendid property known as

No. 1 Fire Company's Engine House.

No. 25 South Broad street.

This property, fronting 42 feet on Broad street, between Broadway and Peachtree street, and Marietta—is without exception the most choice central property that will be put on the market in this city. It is a building of 10,000 square feet of floor space, and is a most desirable place for any kind of business. The entire lot is covered with a most substantial two-story brick building, lower story of which is now used as the central station for the Atlanta fire department, while in the second story is a magnificent ball room, and a most desirable place for the rear are rooms which have been used as sleeping apartments for the firemen.

100 Feet Along the Line of the Central R.R.

As it is, in fact, along the Atlanta and West Point railroad, the Western and Atlantic railroad, the Georgia Pacific railroad, and the Cincinnati and Georgia railroad, running from its central location, directly the choicest piece of property offered for sale to-day in the city of Atlanta.

This property never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low-test, short-weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cases. Wholesale by Boynton Bros., Atlanta, Ga.

APPOINTMENTS.

HON. GEORGE N. LESTER will address the citizens of Douglas and adjacent counties at 10:30 A. M. on SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 30th, at 11 o'clock a. m. sept26-27

JUDGE GEO. N. LESTER will address the citizens of Forsyth county, in CUMMING on TUESDAY, the 3d of OCTOBER, on the political issue of the day. sept26-27

HON. THOMAS HARDENMAN, Democratic candidate for Congressman at Large, has made the following appointments: RINGOLD, September 26th. DALTON, September 27th. CULLITON, September 28th. sept26-27

JEWELRY.

FREEMAN &amp; CRANKSHAW,

Are receiving daily

NEW GOODS

31 WHITEHALL STREET.

febt-dly 51p

IF YOU WANT

A REALLY GOOD

STEEL PEN

Ask your Stationer or send 25 cents in stamps for a box containing two dozen of

NICKEL, GILT, AND ASSORTED PATENT-MADE MATCHES.

Sold by all Stationers.

Isaac Blackman, Taylor & Co., SOLE AGENTS, NEW YORK.

aug10-dly wed No 4

AT 11 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING

WILL BE SOLD ON THE PREMISES THAT SPLENDID PROPERTY KNOWN AS

NO. 1 ENGINE HOUSE AND LOT,

Next the Broad Street Bridge, fronting about 38 feet on Broad street, running back 100 feet on the 1st Railroad, Western and Atlantic Railroad, Georgia Pacific Railroad, Atlanta and West Point railroad, Cincinnati and Georgia Railroad, making it most decidedly the most desirable piece of property offered for sale in the city to-day.

The titles are unquestionable. Terms cash. Don't fail to attend the sale.

R. H. KNAPP, REAL ESTATE AGENT, 8 Alabama Street.

300,000 APPLE AND PEACH TREES

FOR FALL SALES, BY

M. COLE & CO., PROPRIETORS

OF THE

ATLANTA NURSERIES.

Also, standard and dwarf Peas, Plums, Cherries, Apples, Nectarines, Almonds, Walnuts, Pecans, Mulberries, Quinces, Figs, Potatoes, Blackberries, Gooseberries, Currants, Strawberries, Asparagus and Grapes including Pockington, Prentiss, Luchess and Lady Washington; and

The Largest Stock of Hardy Ornamentals in the South.

Cape Jessamines and Roses a Specialty.

AT WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

Descriptive Catalogues and wholesale lists to the trade. FREE.

M. COLE & CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Inserts 4m-5p

"THE BROWN HOUSE,"

GEORGE C. BROWN, Proprietor.

MACON, GEORGIA,

IMMEDIATELY OPPOSITE PASSENGER DEPOT.

TERMS $2.50 AND $3.00 PER DAY.

THIS POPULAR HOTEL, WITH THE TRAVELING PUBLIC DURING THE PAST FEW MONTHS, has been thoroughly overhauled and renovated from the basement to the attic. The room have been newly carpeted and supplied with handsome furniture, and every effort has been made to make it comfortable and attractive. This House is regarded as the most liberally managed in the South, and for the past year the registers show an actual increase of 25,000. It is known as the headquarters for Commercial

CITY NEWS.

THE REGULAR RECORD OF OUR RENTAL LOCAL EVENTS.

The Day's Doing in Public Offices—The Record of
Our Courts, the Railroads and Hotels—Capital Journals, Real Estate, and Other Amusements—Gossip of All Kinds

The trade in Confederate bonds is fine.
Kuleski, the defaulting book-keeper, is still at large.

The minstrel band parade attracted general
attention.

The station house has been supplied with a new register.

The real estate and rental agents are doing
a fine business.

The Houston street horse car line will be begun next week.

The police had a quiet day yesterday. Only one case was docketed.

Some very fine pavement is being put down on the sidewalk at the corner of Forsyth and Marietta streets.

The question of a new cemetery as well as the matter of the new park have slipped out of sight of the public.

The workmen who are manhandling Peachtree street are now at work in front of the executive mansion.

A bunch of seven keys can be had by the person who lost them, by calling at this office
and paying for this ad.

The Second Baptist church has purchased a house on Washington street for their pastor,
the Rev. Dr. McDonald.

Mr. Fincher's residence and store on Haynes street was destroyed by fire yesterday morning.
Loss, about $1,200; insurance, $800.

The corner is worth getting out of bed to
see. It is remarkably distinct and about day break is tinged with a beautiful blue.

You may no second gift when you buy clothes of us, as we manufacture our own goods. EISENMAN BROS., 55 Whitehall.

1100—sep24-3t

Finley & Grant have the largest stock of coal in the city. Soddy, Coal Creek and Atlantic.

There is a fine speculation in the beautiful and valuable property to be sold today. It has a fine future, but must be sold, as owner is going west. See description in ten cent column and attend sale. T. A. Friserson.

Our stock comprises all the latest shades
and designs. EISENMAN BROS., 55 Whitehall.

1100—sep24-3t

One thousand sheets Evans' Standard Sheet
Music, 5 cents single copy; $3.00 per 100
sheets; now in stock at Holman, Coffin & Co.

Two more telephones put up—one at J. M.
B. Carlton & Sons, on Decatur street, No. 68, and one at Mr. E. Brainerd's residence on Whitehall street, No. 136.

Our clothing, both as to make and fit, are beyond comparison and our prices beyond competition. EISENMAN BROS., 55 Whitehall.

1100—sep24-3t

Call on J. H. Barwell & Bro., Marietta
street, and get your Diamond Plate, Florist, guaranteed the best in the United States.
sep27 dt

The painters who are at work on the capitol
put up scaffolding around the clock tower yesterday, ready for painting that part of the building.

Yesterday Ordinary Calhoun was busy sending out election blanks to the various voting precincts of the country to be used on the day of election.

The Gate City Guard will, at the next meeting, choose officers within the next few days.
Capt. Harry Jackson to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Captain J. E.
Burke. It is supposed that Capt. Jackson will accept.

Real Estate Notes.

A profitable investment, or speculation in the beautiful and valuable property that must be sold today. Read description in ten cent column and be on hand. T. A. Friserson.

Fence Elections.

Yesterday Ordinary Calhoun issued an order
for an election to be held in Blackhall district on the 11th of October to settle the question of fence or no fence. The election in Buckhead district will occur on the 2d.

Before the Commissioner.

Sol Sharp was before Commissioner W. B.
Smith yesterday on a charge of retailing distilled spirits in violation of law. He gave temporary bond to return on Friday. Robert Pardee was up on a charge of retailing, and was committed in default of bond for a full hearing today.

Run Over by a Street Car.

Charlie Griffin, a ten-year-old white boy,
who resides with his parents on Bell street,
was run over by a Decatur street horse car
last night, and was badly injured. The boy's right leg was terribly crushed between the tires and axle.

United States Circuit Court.

In the United States circuit court, Judge Pardee presiding, the following cases were disposed of: Chess Wood, retailing; plea guilty; sentence 30 days, $100 and costs. Per-for Alfred, retailing; case given to jury.
Ford Bell, retailing; case given to jury.

Defendant recovers costs. James Winstead vs. Benj. H. Bigham; decree for plaintiff.

Cheap Excursion.

Take advantage of the very low rates to Cincinnati and return, offered by the Louisville, Nashville and Cincinnati short line route. Trains leave 7 a. m. and 2:40 p. m.
September 28th.

Grand opportunity. Last chance to visit
both the Louisville and Cincinnati expositions
at the low rate of $10.00 round trip. Tickets good to return on or before October 31st.

Address: FRED D. BISH, S. E. Pass. Agt.,
sep24-2t

Indian Spring Depot.

The great S. A. of business and residence Indian Spring depot, Butts county, on the line of the new railroad from Atlanta to Macon takes place tomorrow, Thursday, 28th at 11 o'clock. Take the train on the new road at 2 o'clock today, Wednesday, and go down so as to be at the sale to-morrow.
Fare reduced to two cents per mile each way,
and tickets good for three days. See advertisement. Colonel Adair has plans. Go down and spend a day at the famous spring and attend the sale. sep27 dt-1p

The Angier Estate.

Next Tuesday, 30th October, (sale day) Colonels W. & Adair will sell, at the city hall, for Mrs. Angier, the administratrix of Dr. Angier, one share of the stock of the Roswell Manufacturing company, a superior 8 per cent paying stock, par value $800, and ten shares of the stock of the Gate City Street Railway company—a young and prosperous corporation in this city, which has built one popular line and is making preparations to build another. See the advertisement for other property. Colonel Adair has plans at his office. sep27 dt-1p

Only a Farmer's Daughter.

The above play, booked at DeGives
opera house for Wednesday and Thursday nights, and as the company has not been heard from recently, the engagement is off.
The next entertainment will be Friday and Saturday by Nick Roberts' "Humpty Dumpty." It has several new features and attractions to provoke fun. The three clowns
and their admirable assistants, the specialists Mauritius, the baby elephant, and the famous royaute troupe, in the hand act, all combine in making a company that will doubtless be greeted by a rousing house.

Thrown from a Horse.

Thos. Holmes, a colored man, was thrown from a horse on Mitchell street yesterday and

sustained injuries which may prove fatal.
The horse was a wild one and frightened at a bicycle which caused him to rear and fall back.
As the animal fell Holmes attempted to escape by jumping, but one of his feet hung
in the stirrup and before he could extricate
it the horse had regained his feet and was running rapidly. Holmes was pulled along by the ground for quite a distance, and was so badly injured that his life is considered in great danger.

United States District Court.

In the United States district court, Judge McKay presiding, the following cases were disposed of yesterday: Sing Meeks, distilling etc., plea guilty, sentence three months, $20 and costs. J. C. Allen, removing, plea guilty, sentence three months, $20 and costs.
W. B. Tranter, retailing and removing, plea guilty, sentence three months, $20 and costs. Samuel Linglefelt, working in an illicit distillery, acquitted. William Edlin, retailing, acquitted. James Henson, retailing tobacco, acquitted. Sing Meeks, order setting aside order of forfeiture. Taddy Gaddis, defaulting witness, dismissed on answer. James Gaddis, defaulting witness, dismissed on answer. North Parker, order forfeiting bond.

GEORGE T. BARNES

Will Address the People of Atlanta Thursday Night
at the Opera House.

Some time ago the Stephens club, of Atlanta, invited George T. Barnes, of Augusta, to deliver a speech on the political issues of the campaign in this city. Subsequently the democratic state committee also requested
Mr. Barnes to speak here. To both invitations he replied that it would give him great pleasure to speak in Atlanta before the state election if his other engagements would permit. Yesterday a telegram was received from him stating that he could be in Atlanta Thursday. Accordingly it is arranged that he will speak at the opera house to-morrow night.
The ladies are especially invited to be present.
A treat may be expected.

A STRANGE INFATUATION.

A Young White Man who is Foolishly Fond of a Quadrone Girl.

A strange story has become public property
and may in a few days, end in a terrible tragedy. The two characters are a wealthy young white man of a neighboring state and a young quadrone woman, upon whom he is lavishing his money. He is insanely jealous, however, and has "holled over" on several occasions. In his jealous frenzy he has ill-used her so that she determined to leave him. She accompanied him to Atlanta and he followed her to refuge and a home in the abode of an older woman, whose method of procuring a living is more honest than respectable. The white man, however, followed her to Atlanta
and walked the town over in search for her,
and finally discovered her whereabouts. He set upon her and beat her up, and then told her that if he ever saw her even speak to a man
again except himself that he would kill her pauldieu cut his own throat. The two are still in the city, the woman fearing to go back to him yet, believing that he means to carry his threat into execution. The young man is a member of one of the best families
of his state, and his strange infatuation can scarcely be comprehended.

THE GEORGIA PACIFIC.

And Atlanta's Pet, the Belt Line Railroad—How the Work is Progressing.

Work on the Georgia Pacific is progressing rapidly. A construction train will be sent to Anniston in a few days to be used in track laying from that place toward Atlanta. Work on the twenty-four miles beyond Anniston to the Coosa river is to be pushed rapidly and will be completed early in January. In a few weeks the line will be running and the unlooked-for trouble occurs. The principal work now being done on this side of Anniston is on a tunnel, and of course cannot be hurried. The track laying, however, is to be pushed so that very little work will remain
to be done when the tunnel is completed.
Major Temple is now out on the line of the road. He left Atlanta Monday for the purpose of riding on horseback over the route to be built. The line is in a straight line between Atlanta and Columbus, Mississippi. The road which will take will be about three hundred miles. He is expected to return to Atlanta in ten days or two weeks, as he will need as he will come back by rail. The trains for the road are arriving daily in great numbers, and everything is on a boom. The depot ground is being leveled off and more
side-tracks are to be put in. Work will be commenced at once. The most important part out beyond the exposition grounds to where the belt road taps the main line. That will give a double track for three miles and will be of great benefit in transferring freight. The belt line is in a straight line between Atlanta and Columbus, Mississippi. The road which will take will be about three hundred miles. He is expected to return to Atlanta in ten days or two weeks, as he will need as he will come back by rail. The
trains for the road are arriving daily in great numbers, and everything is on a boom. The
depot ground is being leveled off and more
side-tracks are to be put in. Work will be commenced at once. The most important part out beyond the exposition grounds to where the belt road taps the main line. That will give a double track for three miles and will be of great benefit in transferring freight.
The belt line is in a straight line between Atlanta and Columbus, Mississippi. The road
which will take will be about three hundred miles. He is expected to return to Atlanta in ten days or two weeks, as he will need as he will come back by rail. The trains for the road are arriving daily in great numbers, and everything is on a boom. The depot ground is being leveled off and more side-tracks are to be put in. Work will be commenced at once. The most important part out beyond the exposition grounds to where the belt road taps
the main line. That will give a double track for three miles and will be of great benefit in transferring freight. The belt line is in a straight line between Atlanta and Columbus, Mississippi. The road which will take will be about three hundred miles. He is expected to return to Atlanta in ten days or two weeks, as
he will need as he will come back by rail. The
trains for the road are arriving daily in great numbers, and everything is on a boom. The
depot ground is being leveled off and more
side-tracks are to be put in. Work will be commenced at once. The most important part
out beyond the exposition grounds to where the belt road taps the main line. That will give a double track for three miles and will be of great benefit in transferring freight. The belt line is in a straight line between Atlanta and Columbus, Mississippi. The road which will take will be about three hundred miles. He is expected to return to Atlanta in ten days or
two weeks, as he will need as he will come back by rail. The trains for the road are arriving daily in great numbers, and everything
is on a boom. The depot ground is being leveled off and more side-tracks are to be put in. Work
will be commenced at once. The most important part out beyond the exposition grounds to
where the belt road taps the main line. That will give a double track for three miles and
will be of great benefit in transferring freight.
The belt line is in a straight line between Atlanta and Columbus, Mississippi. The road
which will take will be about three hundred miles. He is expected to return to Atlanta in
ten days or two weeks, as he will need as he
will come back by rail. The trains for the
road are arriving daily in great numbers, and
everything is on a boom. The depot ground is being leveled off and more side-tracks are to be put in. Work will be commenced at once.
The most important part out beyond the exposition grounds to where the belt road taps the main line. That will give a double track for three miles and will be of great benefit in transferring freight. The belt line is in a straight line between Atlanta and Columbus,
Mississippi. The road which will take will be about three hundred miles. He is expected to return to Atlanta in ten days or two weeks, as
he will need as he will come back by rail. The
trains for the road are arriving daily in great numbers, and everything is on a boom. The
depot ground is being leveled off and more
side-tracks are to be put in. Work will be commenced at once. The most important part
out beyond the exposition grounds to where the
belt road taps the main line. That will give a double track for three miles and will be of
great benefit in transferring freight. The belt
line is in a straight line between Atlanta and Columbus, Mississippi. The road which will take will be about three hundred miles. He is expected to return to Atlanta in ten days or
two weeks, as he will need as he will come
back by rail. The trains for the road are arriving daily in great numbers, and everything
is on a boom. The depot ground is being leveled
off and more side-tracks are to be put in. Work
will be commenced at once. The most important part out beyond the exposition grounds to
where the belt road taps the main line. That
will give a double track for three miles and
will be of great benefit in transferring freight.
The belt line is in a straight line between Atlanta and Columbus, Mississippi. The road
which will take will be about three hundred miles. He is expected to return to Atlanta in
ten days or two weeks, as he will need as he
will come back by rail. The trains for the
road are arriving daily in great numbers, and
everything is on a boom. The depot ground is
being leveled off and more side-tracks are to be put in. Work will be commenced at once.

THE HICKS MURDER CASE.

Holton, Freedman, Self and Miller Put Upon Trial in the Circuit Court.

The trial of Bolton, Freedman, Self and Miller, the men charged with the murder of Ed-
man Hicks while on a revenue raid in Gwinnett county last winter, came up in the United States circuit court yesterday morning
before Judge Pardee. Mr. T. P. Westmoreland prosecuted. District Attorney Bigham and Mr. C. C. Parrott, assistant district attorney, were present. The trial was commenced without delay. A panel of twelve jurors was called into the box, eight negroes and four white men. The four prisoners collected around their counsel and Mr. Westmoreland began to propound the usual questions to the jurors regarding their competency. The first juror questioned was Judge Kirkpatrick. He was asked if he was impartial. He answered that he was. He was then asked if he was not "perfectly impartial between the state and the accused." He was thereupon inquired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he
was impartial. He answered that he was. He
was then asked if he was not "perfectly im-
partial between the state and the accused." He
was thereupon inquired if he was impartial.
He answered that he was. He was then asked
if he was not "perfectly impartial between the
state and the accused." He was thereupon in-
quired if he was impartial. He answered that
he was. He was then asked if he was not
"perfectly impartial between the state and the
accused." He was thereupon inquired if he was

McBRIDE & CO.'S
CHINA PALACE
Is filled with French, English and American China and Glassware, in every shade and color known to man. Our stock of Jobbing goods in Granite, C. C. Wooden and Tinware, Lay's Lamps, etc., is now ready and at prices that will please the buyer.

Janis—dry top 1st col 8p

ARTISTS' MATERIALS.

NEW SUPPLY
Paints, Oils,
PLAQUES,
MALL STICKS,
EASELS, BRUSHES,

JUST IN.
HOLMAN, COFFIN & CO.
Feb 18—dry un mch

ATLANTA, GA., March 17, 1882.
Messrs J. P. Stevens & Co:

GENTLEMEN: In accordance with your request I have given the watch, No 120, which you made, the most severe test that a watch can get in the rough usage of railroad service. The results that this time piece have yielded have been most remarkable. It set by standard time and kept it three weeks without changing it any way. At the end of this time I found that the watch had varied only four seconds. Considering the rough treatment which the watch received, this is the most accurate result I have ever seen.

Yours truly,
T. C. McLENDON,
Conductor C. R. & G.

Sept 12 dnf 8p

COTTON AND WEATHER.

Corros, midding upland closed in Liverpool yesterday, at 7; in New York, at 12½; in Atlanta at 10½.

Daily Weather Report
OBSERVER'S OFFICE SIGNAL CORPS, U. S. A.
KIMBALL HOUSE, September 26, 1882, P. M.
All observations taken at the same moment of time at each place named.

| NAME OF STATION. | Barometer. | Thermometer. | Wind. | Direction. | Force. | Relative. | Weather. |
|------------------|------------|--------------|-------|------------|--------|-----------|----------|
| Atlanta.         | 29.99      | 65           | W.    | N.         | Fresh  | 00        | Clear.   |
| Augusta.         | 29.96      | 65           | E.    | N.         | Light  | 00        | Cloudy.  |
| Salisbury.       | 29.97      | 65           | E.    | N.         | Light  | 00        | Clear.   |
| Indianola.       | 29.97      | 65           | E.    | N.         | Light  | 00        | Fair.    |
| Key West.        | 29.97      | 65           | E.    | N.         | Light  | 00        | Fair.    |
| Mobile.          | 29.97      | 65           | E.    | N.         | Light  | 00        | Clear.   |
| Montgomery.      | 29.97      | 65           | E.    | N.         | Light  | 00        | Clear.   |
| New Orleans.     | 29.97      | 65           | E.    | N.         | Light  | 00        | Clear.   |
| Pensacola.       | 29.97      | 65           | E.    | N.         | Light  | 00        | Clear.   |
| Palmetto.        | 29.97      | 65           | E.    | N.         | Light  | 00        | Clear.   |
| Savannah.        | 29.97      | 65           | E.    | N.         | Light  | 00        | Clear.   |

Local Observations.

| Time of Observation. | Barometer. | Thermometer. | Wind. | Direction. | Force. | Relative. | Weather. |
|----------------------|------------|--------------|-------|------------|--------|-----------|----------|
| 6:31 A. M.           | 29.99      | 65           | N. E. | E.         | Gent.  | 00        | Cloudy.  |
| 10:31 " "            | 29.99      | 65           | N. E. | E.         | Gent.  | 00        | Fair.    |
| 2:31 P. M.           | 29.99      | 65           | N. E. | E.         | Gent.  | 00        | Fair.    |
| 6:31 " "             | 29.99      | 65           | N. E. | E.         | Gent.  | 00        | Clear.   |
| 10:31 " "            | 29.99      | 65           | N. E. | E.         | Gent.  | 00        | Clear.   |

Mean daily bar. 30.028 Maximum ther. 74.2
Mean daily ther. 63.9 Minimum ther. 50.0
Mean daily humid. 71.7 Total rainfall. .00

Cotton Belt Bulletin.

Observations taken at 5 p. m.—Local time.

| Atlanta District.  | Max.     | Min. | Rain. |
|--------------------|----------|------|-------|
| Atlanta.           | 71       | 60   | .00   |
| Spartanburg.       | 72       | 60   | .00   |
| Toccoa.            | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| Gainesville.       | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| Dalton.            | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| Dalhousie.         | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| Spartanville.      | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| West Point.        | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| Newman.            | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| Prichard.          | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| DISTRICTS.         | AVERAGE. |      |       |
| 1 Wilmington.      | 69       | 57   | .00   |
| 2 Charleston.      | 69       | 57   | .00   |
| 3 Augusta.         | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| 4 Savannah.        | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| 5 Atlanta.         | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| 6 Montgomery.      | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| 7 Mobile.          | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| 8 New Orleans.     | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| 9 Galveston.       | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| 10 Vicksburg.      | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| 11 Little Rock.    | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| 12 Memphis.        | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| 13 St. Louis.      | 70       | 60   | .00   |
| Mean of Districts. | 70.8     | 57.9 | .00   |

H. HALL,
Sergeant Signal Corps, U. S. A.

Remember that J. G. Jones is at 7 Whitehall street, with a tasty stock of Piece Goods, also that he can ve a good fit every time.

Sept 18—dry un weath rep

NEW GOODS

I have complete stock of fine Watches, Diamonds, Jewelry, Clocks and Silverware. The best selection ever displayed in any first-class jewelry store, and I believe that I can suit everyone in style, quality and price. I have also

A FULL LINE OF INITIAL PINS.
In Silver and Gold, the newest novelties in the market. My stock of Silverware is the largest best-selected and most varied this side of New York. My close business relations with the most reliable and largest manufacturers, the

MERIDEN BRITANIA CO.,

Who always keep me supplied with the latest designs and finest goods made, give me advantages enjoyed by no other jewelry store south, and which I cheerfully share with my patrons. Parties wishing bridal presents will do well to examine my stock before buying elsewhere, as I know I will save you money.

A. F. PICKERT,

No 5 Whitehall street.

P. S.—A full line of the finest imported spectacles and Eye-Glasses can also be found at my place, which I guarantee to give satisfaction for five years.

may 25 dnf—dist colls

WATCHES, JEWELRY.

FREEMAN & CRANKSHAW,

31 Whitehall Street.

We are prepared to do all the most difficult WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING

IN FIRST-CLASS STYLE

Sept 18—dry un mch

MEETINGS.

ATLANTA, GA., September 26th, 1882.

The members of Modoc Tribe, No 3 Improved Order of Red Men, are hereby required to meet at their Wigwam No. 210 Marietta street, at 10 o'clock to-day, to attend the funeral of brother Lewis Hetter, deceased. All sister Tribes are cordially invited to meet with the Tribe to pay the last tribute of respect to our deceased brother.

By order of the Sachem.

W. D. BURNES, Chief of Records,
Modoc Tribe No. 3, Imp'd O. R. M.

Sept 17—dnf

SEPTEMBER 26, 1882. THE BEST THE CHEAPEST

—IS THE MOTTO OF—
CHAMBERLIN, BOYNTON & CO.

We are now offering the Largest and Best Selected Stock of Imported

DRESS GOODS, SILKS, VELVETS, PLUSHES, ETC., ETC.

Ever shipped to the Southern States. Our Stock is complete in every department. All we ask is

EXAMINE QUALITY AND PRICES.

BOOTS—Full and Complete Stock in. Nobby Styles and Best Makes. KID GLOVES—30 pairs 3 and 4 Button Kid Gloves in all colors, worth $1.50 a pair, offered at 50¢ close out—NOT DAMAGED.

CARPETS! CARPETS! CARPETS! Full stock. Styles prettier than ever. Examine our Wiltons, Moquettes, Velvets, Rody Brussels, Tapestry and Ingrains. Also Oil Cloths, Matings, Mats, Rugs, Rugs, Lace Curtains, Shades, etc. Stock Complete. Styles the Latest. Goods the Best.

Agents Butterick's Patterns. CHAMBERLIN BOYNTON & CO., 66 and 68 Whitehall street.

FULL LINES

HIRSCH

42 & 44 WHITEHALL ST.

BROS.

LATEST PATTERNS

FALL STYLES CLOTHING.

mar 20—dry un cham 8p

KNABE

PIANO-FORTES.

These Pianos are the general favorites. Call and see the grandest and largest stock ever offered in Atlanta.

PHILLIPS & CREW, General Agents.

July 18—dry top 2d col 8p

PERSONAL.

Mr. R. J. Ragan, of Rome, is at the Kimball.

Mr. H. Poole, of Baltimore, is at the Markham.

Mrs. J. E. Wells, of Macon, is a guest of the Markham.

Major Dan Cullahan, of Rome, has rooms at the Markham.

Mr. Joseph Bond, of Macon, is registered at the Kimball.

Douglas Glesner, of the Griffin News, is at the Kimball.

Colonel J. D. Alexander, of Thomaston, is again at the Markham.

W. A. Haugh and B. M. Blackburn, of Madison, are at the Kimball.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bond, of Macon, were registered at the Markham yesterday.

Hon. R. B. Robinson, a leading member of the Lamar Mission, here in the city on professional business.

Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Woodward, proprietors of the Fashion Tailors, have returned from their summer vacation.

Mr. E. Baxter Connelly, of Texas, dropped in on his old friends on yesterday, after an absence of four years. Mr. Connelly was a graduate of the class of '68 at the University, and his class mates had lost track of him and thought he was dead. They were more than glad to see him on yesterday "in the flesh," prosperous and happy. He was shown over the city by his old friends and they claimed all his time. He is a prosperous and esteemed citizen of Texas and is doing well. He was a little disappointed to be haughty, because of the fact that he is the father of the only pair of twins yet born to the jolly good fellow of the old days.

A glance at the situation and surroundings of the city convince you that it is the place and time to invest. See description in ten cent column and attend the sale. T. A. Frieron.

A New Enterprise in Atlanta

Can, with capital, be started in the building known as No. 1 Engine House, at any time after sale, which takes place this morning at 11 o'clock, on the premises. The titles are beyond all dispute, and the sale will positively take place, the terms being cash.

Real Estate Agent, S. Alabama Street.

Valuable houses and lots at forced auction sale to-day, owing going west and property must be sold. Read description in ten cent column and on hand. T. A. Frieron.

Don't Die in the House

"Rough on Rats," Clears out rats, mice, roaches, bed bugs, flies, ants, moles, chipmunks, gophers, etc.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

At the expiration of Alderman Beermann's term of office, the south side of the railroad will have no immediate representative in the aldermanic board, as there are two of the ones holding over from the north side. Justice demands that Alderman Beermann's successor should be from the south side of Atlanta and they present the name of that old, tried public spirited citizen, Major John H. Measlin, as a suitable man to fill the place and one that will be supported by the whole people of Atlanta.

W. H. BROTHERTON'S

50, 100, 150, 250, 750 and $100 Counters are more attractive than anything of the kind in the South. Articles at 50 and 100 that sell in other houses in a regular way for 250 and 500.

Be sure and examine the goods on these Counters.

W. H. BROTHERTON'S

Dress Goods Department is very attractive.

All-wool Black Bunting 15c.

Half-wool Black Bunting 10c.

Black and White, Brown and Black, Black and Blue and Black Striped Silks 50c.

Plain Black Silk 50c.

Colored Silks, in all shades, 50 cents.

Black all-wool Cashmere 40c.

Black Satin 50, Colored Satins in delicate shades $1 00, and all other goods in this department correspondingly low.

W. H. BROTHERTON'S

Ready-made Clothing Department in Gents', Boys' and Children's is complete. If you need a new suit examine his immense stock. His prices are lower than the lowest.

Sept 17—dry un cham 8p

DAVID II DOUGHERTY

My entire stock of goods is now in, and it is with pleasure and confidence that I state my ability to show the handsomest and most attractive stock ever exhibited in this market. In my dress goods department there is nothing that goes to make up the novelties and styles of the season that I cannot show.

Having gone to market very early this season, I secured a great many very rare novelties in Dress Goods, Silks, Satins, Velvets, Brocades, Damasies, etc., that cannot be found in any other house in the city. I challenge any house South on novelties and rare gems of the season, and I do not hesitate to say that the volume of my business, and the vast amount of goods that I buy and sell, enables me to save you from ten to fifteen per cent over any house in Atlanta. I will thank merchants and customers visiting Atlanta to inspect my goods and prices. Then if you do not find that you can fully endorse all that I claim, I will not ask you to buy. Yours, respectfully,

D. H. DOUGHERTY.

D. H. DOUGHERTY

Don't fail to see my stock of Dress Goods, Silks, Satins, Plushes, Velvets and many rare novelties of the season. They are too utterly not to be admired.

And as to the prices you know what they are yourself.

NEW GOODS

—AND—
NOBBY STYLES

—IN—
CLOTHING

—AND—
FURNISHING GOODS.

Just received. A large line of samples for suits to order.

A. B. ANDREWS

Sept 17 8p. 16 Whitehall street

W. H. BROTHERTON'S

Millinery Department, presided over by Mrs. B. LYON, is one of the most attractive establishments of the kind south of Baltimore.

Do not fail to call and examine the beautiful Bonnets, Hats, Feathers, Flowers, Ribbons, etc.

Also, agent for the sale of Mme. Demorest's celebrated Patterns. This is the best and most reliable pattern sold.

Sept 17—dry un cham 8p

LIGHT FOR ALL!

Reduction in the Price of Gas.

Important Notice to Our Patrons.

Thanking our patrons for the liberality heretofore extended, we make our best bow and announce, on the 1st of October 1st, 1882,

A REDUCTION OF 20 PER CENT

will be allowed when paid at the company's office on any of the last five days of the month. This reduction brings the price within the reach of all. An increased consumption will soon authorize another reduction.

So Turn it on and Let 'er Roll.

THE ATLANTA GAS LIGHT CO.

Office corner Whitehall and Alabama streets, up stairs. 2070-2p21—4p21 p

W. L. GOLDSMITH.

DEALER IN HIGH GRADE FERTILIZERS

Brown's Cotton Seed Hullers.

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST."

I REPRESENT BROWN'S PATENT ROLLERS DIRECTLY and will sell as low as any first-class goods, for cash, time sales and cotton. Write for circulars, prices, etc.

W. L. GOLDSMITH, Atlanta, Ga.

Sept 18—dry un mch

PROF. J. H. VAN STAVOREN.

Portrait and Landscape Painter,

Has Removed His Studio to

N. O. 73-1-2 WHITEHALL STREET, WHERE HE has fitted up rooms suitable to display his work in Art, and has the largest exhibition of Oil Paintings that was ever before seen in the city, consisting of full length, life-size Portraits of eminent men, lovely women, and beautiful children.

The public are cordially invited to call. Prof. Van Stavoren is now prepared to instruct a limited number of pupils the Art of Portrait or Landscape Painting.

may 25 dnf

WELL FIXED FOR ROOM AT LAST!

JOHN KEELY

"THE LEADER OF LOW PRICES,"

Has added on to His Already Mammoth Concern Still Another Store Room, Making His Store

THE LARGEST ROOM SOUTH OF PHILADELPHIA!

He shows an acre and a half of floor crammed and jammed full of Dry Goods. Nothing Like it South!

HIS FALL STOCK IS NOW IN!

IS ASSORTMENT IS COMPLETE! HIS PRICES ARE THE LOWEST!

His New Millinery and Cloak Rooms will eclipse anything in this State for beauty and convenience.

1100 Running Feet of Counter devoted to the sale of Dry Goods!

125 Feet Counter devoted to the sale of Shoes!

NEW CLOAKS! NEW CLOAKS!

Cloaks by the Thousand. New Jackets. New Dolmans. New Ulsters.

NEW BLACK SILKS & CASHMERES

New Colored Silks, Cashmeres, etc. French Novelties in Dress Goods. Nobody will sell them as cheap as I will. Be sure to examine fine Dress Goods before you make your Purchases. I am making a point on fine Dress Goods this season. I have the Best Stock of Medium and Low priced Dress Goods ever offered in Atlanta.

NEW FLANNELS,

Embracing everything made in White, Red and Blue Flannels. New styles Sacking Flannels, etc.

A truly Superb Line.

LOW PRICES! LOW PRICES! LOW PRICES!

Fifty pieces beautiful Embroidered Flannels. Linen Goods in fine variety, embracing all classes of goods belonging to this department. The best Stock of Hose and Gloves in the southern states. All the novelties in Kid Gloves.

A Grand Stock of Fall Thread Gloves. Thousands of New Cassimeres for Men's and Boys' wear. Water-Proofs, Sackings, Jeans, Tweeds, etc., in endless variety. The Best Stock of Shoes in Georgia! The largest assortment of Shoes in the South! The best grade Shoes made. Everything mentionable in Ladies', Gents', Misses' and Boys' and Infant's Shoes, Boots, etc.

SHIRTS! SHIRTS! SHIRTS! SHIRTS!

The largest and best assorted stock of Men's and Boys' Shirts ever offered in the south. So large is the assortment of shirts that a detailed list of deserving attractions in this line is simply impossible, but suffice it to say that shirts of any size, from the tiny 11-inch neck of the small boy up to the "full grown" 18½-inch neck in gent's size, can here be found in white and colored, in every grade made and at any given price. I propose to sell a shirt, the best made in America, at that particular price. A fine line of Gent's night shirts. The

ROAD TO THE LATEST STYLES AND LOWEST PRICES LIES THROUGH JOHN KEELY'S FRONT DOOR.

Thousands of special attractions in every department, and other things of interest, but too numerous to admit of mention here, at

JOHN KEELY'S,

NOS. 58, 60, 62 AND 64 WHITEHALL STREET, ATLANTA, GA.

Sept 18 dnf mch, wed dnf

SHOES! SHOES! SHOES!

Ladies' all-Le